LD

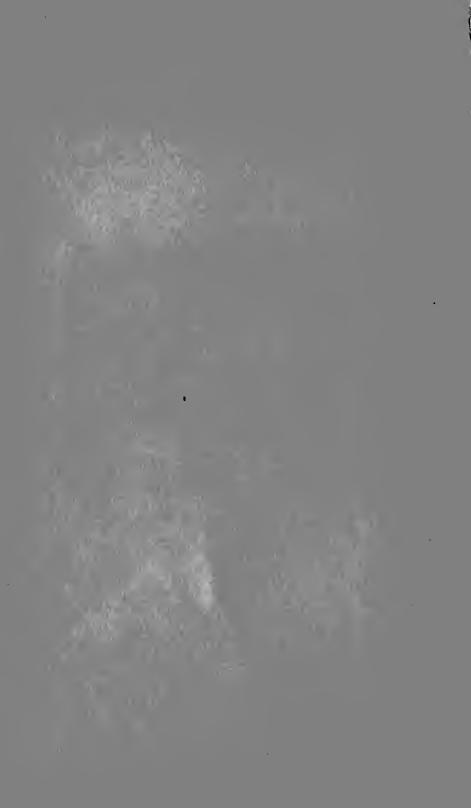

R.S. Simpson.

FIRST AHNUAL RECORD

PRINCETON CLASS OF NINETEEN-SIX

Primeton university Clar 7 1908

FIRST RECORD OF THE CLASS OF NINETEEN HUNDRED SIX OF PRINCETON UNIVERSITY

EDITED BY THE CLASS SECRETARY

LD4604
1906

Printed by Princeton University Press

Class Organization

SAMUEL JACKSON REID, JR., President.
WILLIAM CALHOUN MOTTER, Vice-President.
LOUIS DANIEL FROELICK, Secretary.
OLIVER DE GRAY VANDERBILT, JR. Acting Secretary.

Memorial Committee.

HARRY FERDINAND BLISS,
LOUIS DANIEL FROELICK,
PAUL STARK SEELEY,
OLIVER DE GRAY VANDERBILT, JR.,
SINGLETON HINMAN BIRD, Chairman.

Reunion Committee.

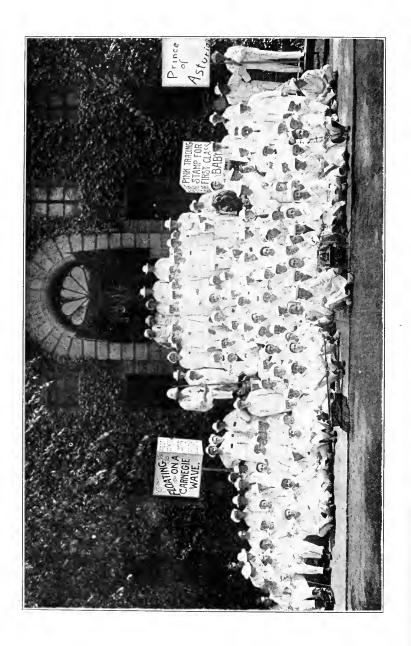

HARRISON WILLIAM AMBROSE,
SINGLETON HINMAN BIRD,
LOUIS DANIEL FROELICK,
EDGAR ALEXANDER ILL,
BENJAMIN WARFIELD KERR,
GORDON MACDONALD, JR.,
HAROLD R. MIXSELL,
OLIVER DE GRAY VANDERBILT, JR.,
SAMUEL JACKSON REID, JR., Chairman.

Representative on the Committee of Fifty.

OLIVER DE GRAY VANDERBILT, JR., 1906.

Preface

I N presenting this book to the class under my name I feel that I must give some explanation of its origin, knowing as I do what small part I have taken in its contents.

Lou Froelick has practically done it all, and yet he persists in thanking me in every letter I get from him, for simply doing the clerical work of compiling the statistics which he has collected through his year of conscientious work as secretary.

I wish to thank Bill Hoyt for the interest which he has taken in getting up the cover, also the fellows who have written letters and thus helped to make the book more interesting.

I am afraid that none of us realize how much it means to the class, to have a man like Lou at the helm. He has everyone of us constantly in mind, and the days and months he has spent in the interest of the class would make us realize this, if we but knew them.

As Lou says in an other part of the record, this class is certainly a pleasure to work for, and I indeed appreciate the confidence which Sam and Lou have put in me in asking me to take up the work of the secretary in Lou's absence. I know nothing more delightful that I could wish for. Every letter I received from any of the class is read and reread with keenest enjoyment, and as I sit down to look over the records before putting them in the printer's hands, it is like taking up some precious old book full of the dearest memories, and I sit back and dream visions of those wonderful care free days, when we were altogether in Princeton.

They are over now but their memory is as fresh as ever and grows sweeter every year. Let each one of us keep all the others constantly in mind, and let me know, as often as you have a few minutes to write, everything about yourself, remembering what pleasure it will give to the other men in the class, scattered completely around the earth, to hear the interesting news of the best and dearest friends they can ever hope to have.

And if any of you have a few dull or down cast moments drop me a line and I will tell you all the good news of your friends, and how each man is proving that he is proud to be a member of the class.

Lou says that you have all been a big help to him in his work in answering his letters and circulars, although some had to be coaxed a bit. I do not mind coaxing, but I will be disappointed if I do not hear from you all frequently. I feel however that I am not to expect any disappointments.

In many ways 1906 has already established for itself a place among the most prominent classes. The first annual dinner and reunion, which Lou has so ably described in another part, were successful to the last degree. The memorial fund which has been so well managed by Hinman Bird is remarkable for its size, and the way the class has contributed as a whole. The reunion committee has covered itself with glory in its successful management. It ends its first year without a debt and we certainly owe our thanks to the members of the committee for the time which they have given up to make our gatherings a success.

With this start, 1906 is well launched, and we can now rest assured that a bright and successful path stretches out to us. We are now held together by a bond which can never be broken, and which, I am sure, will grow stronger and draw us closer as the years go by. Let each one of us recognize the responsibility which he has for the class and wherever we are, or whatever we undertake or are tempted to do, remember your friends in the class, and that your every act reflects on them.

O. DEG. VANDERBILT, JR.

Letter from Louis D. Froelick

Brooklyn, N. Y., Oct. 6, 1907.

To the Class of 1906:

I feel that an apology would be due to the class from me for my action in leaving the work of the class secretary by going to China for two years, were it not that the affairs of the class are now in more competent hands than they would have been otherwise. Shave Vanderbilt has been appointed by Sam Reid to take up the work for the two year period and has most kindly consented to accept the responsibility. I am indebted to you for your hearty support during the last year and for your active response to requests and circulars. True it is that 1906 must be a busy crowd, for almost all of you worthy members seemed to be so deep in the furore of business and pre-professional life, that anything in the line of auto-biographies or even a few written chuckles of your usual wit and humor for publication as letters in the first Class Record, were exceedingly scarce. I trust that you will give Shave as ready support, lend him as prompt attention and response, but develop a much greater readiness than has been noticeable to give up a few genial facts or fictions about yourselves in a personal letter to him once in a while. Remember that the Triennial Record is a bound volume of good size, just filled with interesting letters from every one of us. Keep in mind this chance to make a stir in journalism and work out your ideas on paper every once in a while to send to Shave. Let us sit down promptly and answer every request he makes, remembering that he is just beginning his work when he has done about 350 times the amount of work you'll do in reply. It is a great joy to do the secretary's work for a lively responsive class. Let us make Shave's joy unbounded. Thanking you all for the honor of the position you have given me, for your support and your present indulgence and with best wishes to you all, I am,

Sincerely yours,

Louis D. Froelick.

The Class Memorial Fund

New York, Nov. 1, 1907.

Lou Froelick has told you what a lot of money he and Sam Reid spent last June and the wonderful first reunion we had, that I feel in duty bound to turn your minds from reflecting on those forty-eight half barrels of beer we consumed, into more serious channels. Though naturally a most modest man, still by justice to the other members of this committee and by Froelick's appeal to tell about our "good work in collecting money," as he termed it, I am impelled to let forth a few pent up words on the subject of the Class Memorial. Money is a particularly hard thing to gather, an easy thing to ask for, and difficult to receive.

In Senior year soon after we five unfortunates were elected, we started to see every member of the class and get each to sign a pledge card, agreeing to give so much a year on or before February 1st in each year for ten years. Of course you remember being "approached" and most everybody was "out"—out of their rooms and out of money. "Beggars must not be choosers" and finally we succeeded obtaining 252 names, the total sum promised a year being $2,150.00, an average per man of approximately $8.50. Considering we graduated only 265, including some who preferred to graduate in February 1907, this was doing very well—in promises.

We started a card index, sent many letters and notices—and then more notices—and on June 1st the class had in the fund $1,654.50. At the present time with accumulated interest this sum is a few dollars short of $1,700. Our statistics show that only 171 men paid their subscriptions out of the total of 252, leaving eighty-one men who did not pay. This is a very poor showing but it is difficult to collect money by writing letters and notices which is our only way. The generosity of two or three men enabled us to report a total now of $1,700, an average of about $10 per man. Before we start the arduous work of collecting the 1908 subscriptions, we hope to get many of the eighty-one unpaid to send us their remittances. If any of the readers are in this class, listen to the wee small voice of conscience and send me a check, money order or cash.

We must do better this second year or we will be unable to meet our obligations and have a 1906 Class Entry in the new Hall soon to be started. Our earning capacity has no doubt increased and I cannot urge you too strongly to contribute. We will be the youngest class to have an entry, it will be completed before our Fifth Reunion, and while our extreme youth is a handicap, success will be all the more praiseworthy. We have to make a payment of $4,000 this May to the Treasurer of the University, and $2,000 a year thereafter, to secure our entry, until the total $17,000 is paid. The University finances the undertaking, but we must live up to our contract. Not only will an entry be a splendid memorial to our class but it will be a fitting gift to Princeton of which we are so proud. If the class will co-operate with the Memorial Committee, each one doing his share, we shall be able to raise the $2,300 necessary this year. The Reunion in June was a success financially and the chairman expects that same class loyalty to support the Memorial Fund.

S. HINMAN BIRD,

Chairman of the Memorial Committee.

2 West Forty-eighth Street.

NOTE BY THE SECRETARY

The work of the Class Memorial Committee centered principally in its chairman, Hinman Bird, ably assisted by the committee. It is owing to the steady efforts of these men and to the splendid response by the class, that we have reached the high-water mark in memorial funds for the first year.

But it is to the greater glory of 1906 that this amount represents nearly equal contributions by every member of the class. No one man giving any large amount, much in excess of the general average; thus showing what class spirit and concentrated effort by every man in the class can do.

It is a mark of energetic management, well backed up and bids fair to be the start of a fund which will be everlasting credit to the class.

O. DEG. VANDERBILT, JR.

Financial Report of First Reunion

The report of receipts, disbursements, and balance follows:

RECEIPTS. Class Dinner in February, 1907.....

$7.05

Culturalistican
Subscriptions	1,047.52
Total	$1,654.57
DISBURSEMENTS.
Lot and Barn	100.00
Tent	65.00
Lumber and Carpentering	215.00
Lighting and Installation	53.75
Sawdust	16.40
Music	306.00
Refreshments	214.35
Waiters	125.00
Costumes	353.00
Printing and Stationery	51.05
Parade Equipment	60.25
Committee Expenses	20.00
Expressage	26.12
Long Distance Traveller's Cup	16.00
Incidentals	30.92
Total	$ 6 50 Q 4
10td1	φ1,052. 8 4
Balance	1.73

Retrospection on the important events pertaining to the Class of 1906, during the commencement of June, 1907, reveals both success and failure. No two minds coincide on these two results, for that which is success to one is failure to another. Various conclusions upon the Reunion, all dependent upon the view-point may be arrived at, yet in many respects the opinion must be unanimous. A large part of the class returned to Princeton, which is indicative of a lively interest and spirit; contributions were speedily and liberally given, a most emphatic signification of co-operation; and the whole class mingled and communed with each other and proved that a year's separation only bound the men closer together, an unmistakable proof of a successful Reunion.

On the other hand, failure, mightily overbalanced however by the successes, was not entirely obviated. It was the constant endeavor of the Reunion Committe, realizing the invariable popularity of the first year tent, to maintain an hospitable board and yet to restrain and keep down the number of guests to such an extent that the members of the class might conveniently get together. In this lies our only shortcoming. The great number of graduates and undergraduates, besieging our quarters, caused the segregation of the 1906 men and our hospitality genuine to the core however, proved a slight distraction. It is a well-known fact that these conditions are always the same at first year reunions.

The headquarters at 194 Nassau Street were well situated for a first reunion; the tent was complete in every respect; the floor, tables, and benches were kept clean; and the service of refreshments was splendid. The music was excellent and the uniforms, while absolutely unoriginal were durable, strong and serviceable.

There were present at the reunion some one hundred and eighty men, many of whom remained in town from Friday until Tuesday morning—the period during which the tent was open. Contributions, ranging from two dollars to forty were received and it is especially a source of self gratification to the members of the class that a large percentage responded with enthusiasm in accordance with their means. The reunion was an expensive one, lacking in nothing that could contribute to the convenience and enjoyment of the class and it gives the Reunion Committee great pleasure to report that all the expenses of the reunion have been wholly paid.

NOTE BY THE SECRETARY

I feel that I cannot print the above report of the Reunion Committee without a word regarding the conscientious manner in which the whole thing has been managed. The detail of the class dinner, which was managed by Hinman Bird, were delightful to the last degree. Hinman spent a lot of work on this and deserves the thanks and appreciation of everyone, and we were certainly all disappointed not to have him with us.

Can any one who was at the reunion say it was not a success? Even the men in other classes are still talking of the 1906 tent. But few of us realize the amount of work necessary to make these three days at Princeton the best of the year. The committee certainly deserves the unstinted praise and thanks of the class. There was not a hitch, and many new features were introduced which made our reunion the feature of commencement, and the best first reunion which has ever been held in Princeton. Sam Reid as chairman worked day and night and was in danger of being flunked out of the law school. With such able assistants as Ed Ill and Harold Mixsell, who built the big ship, Harry Ambrose, who as usual supplied music(?) Benny Kerr, who helped put up the big tent (and never left it), and Hinman Bird, who nearly made us run short of beer, the plans reached the highest stage of development. I know everyone appreciates deeply the time these men gave up, and wishes to thank them for the best three days since we graduated.

O. DEG. VANDERBILT, JR.

List of Members

The first address following the name is the man's permanent address, whence it is probable that mail will be forwarded to him. The next address, is the man's present residence:

WOODBURY ABBEY,

Northport, L. I.

Surveyor with United States Engineering Corps, 39 Whitehall St.., New York City.

ALFRED HOUGHTON ABBOTT,

227 Cedar St., Corning, N. Y. Wellesley, Mass.

Assistant order clerk with Estabrook & Co., Bankers, 15 State St., Boston, Mass.

FREDERIC STACEY ACKLEY,

Care A. N. Cox, 100 John St., New York City. Box 116, Millington, N. J.

Occupation not settled.

LE BARON ADAMS,

Wichita Falls, Texas.

Half owner, J. P. Bryan Land Co., Real Estate, Wichita Falls, Texas.

JOHN PERCY COLEMAN ALDEN,

Cornwall, Pa.

Was at Princeton, in the Class of 1907, last year. Will travel for a year and then study law at University of Pennsylvania.

JAMES ADDISON McMILLAN ALEXANDER, 850 Jefferson St., Jackson, Miss.

Law Student, University of Mississippi, Jackson, Miss., and in the firm of Alexander & Alexander, Jackson, Miss.

CHARLES ARTHUR AMBROSE, 265 Centre St., Orange, N. J.

In cashier's department, Moffat & White, Bankers, 5 Nassau St., New York City.

HARRISON WILLIAM AMBROSE,

265 Centre St., Orange, N. J.

With the American Book Co., 100 Washington Square, New York City.

WILLIAM HEEBNER ANDERS, JR., R. F. D. No. 1, Lansdale, Pa.

Farming.

JOHN BOUKER ANDERSON,

45 Greene Ave., Madison, N. J.

Secretary of the Bouker Contracting Co., 24 State St., New York City.

GRAY ARCHER,

Chapel Hill, N. C.

Teaching at High Point, N. C.

WYNN ARMSTRONG,

432 Linden St., Camden, N. J. Cambridge, Mass.

Student, Harvard Law School. Studied one-half year in his father's office, E. A. Armstrong, Box 315, Camden, N. J.

THOMAS HENRY ATHERTON, JR.,

Wilkesbarre, Pa.

6 Louisburg Sq., Boston.

Student of Architecture, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Boston, Mass.

CHARLES WILLIAM GREVEL BAITER,

6 St. Nicholas Place, New York City.

27 Pine St., New York City.

Student, the New York Law School.

ALBERT THEODORE BAKER,

159 Paxton St., Harrisburg, Pa.

First helper, open hearth, Pennsylvania Steel Co., Harrisburg, Pa.

JULIUS PRATT BALMER,

1327 Hollywood Ave., Chicago, Ill.

Western representative in the advertising department of the Butterick Publishing Co., 1433 First National Bank Building, Chicago, Ill.

JOHN BERNARD BANNIGAN,

244 Angell St., Providence, R. I.

In the real estate business for himself at 75 Westminster St., Providence, R. I.

ALEXANDER WILLIAM BANNWART,

418 Walker St., Lowell, Mass.

42 Wendell St., Cambridge, Mass.

Student, Harvard Law School.

RALPH AUSTIN BARD,

140 Lake St., Chicago, Ills.

Rosebud, Nevada.

President of the Rosebud Mining and Leasing Co., Rosebud, Nev.

KENNETH BIGHAM BARNES,

Gettysburg, Pa. San Rafael, Cal.

Principal of the Junior School, Mt. Tamalpais Military Academy, San Rafael, Cal.

ROBERT IRVING BARR,

70 Berkeley Ave., Orange, N. J.

Clerk with Schmidt & Gallatin, Bankers and Brokers, 111 Broadway, New York City.

RALPH ANDREW BARRY,

Jamestown, N. Y.

Civil engineer with the N. Y. C. & H. R. R., 335 Madison Ave., New York City. Was an instructor in the C. E. department at Princeton for a year.

MOREY CUTLER BARTHOLOMEW, 254 Connecticut St., Buffalo, N. Y.

Studying law in the office of Bartholomew & Bartholomew, Lawyers, 1106 Prudential Building, Buffalo, N. Y.

HOWARD PRESTON BARTRAM,

67 Washington St., Newark, N. J.

Special representative for the American Lawn Tennis Magazine. He plays tennis, and photographs and reports for this magazine, The Newark Evening News, and other papers.

HARRY OGDEN BATES, JR.,

Madison Ave., Morristown, N. J.

Writes that he is "gaining slowly but surely" from the paralysis which resulted from his accident in the Brokaw tank, May, 1905.

JULIAN BONAR BEATY,

Georgetown, S. C.

Care Job E. Hedges, 141 Broadway, New York City.

Studying law at the New York Law School, and law clerk with Job E. Hedges, Attorney.

DONALD WELDON BELL,

130 Kennedy St., Bradford, Pa.

With the Custer Coupling Co., No. 2 Oil Exchange, Bradford, Pa.

GEORGE N. BERGNER,

3 South Front St., Harrisburg, Pa. 504 Bergner Building, Harrisburg, Pa.

Business-"None."

FRANK ALLEN BERRY.

123 Ninth Ave., S, Nashville, Tenn. 406 Craigie Hall, Cambridge, Mass.

Student, Harvard Law School.

SINGLETON HINMAN BIRD,

41 East Thirty-eighth St., New York City.

In the bond department, Fisk & Robinson, Bankers and Brokers, 35 Cedar St., New York City.

ALFRED LAWRENCE BLACK, JR.,

Bellingham, Wash.

Studying law in the office of Black, Kindall & Kenyon, Bellingham, Wash.

HARRY FERDINAND BLISS,

1 Madison Ave., Newark, N. J.

With Cassell & Co., Publishers, 43 East 19th St., New York City.

NORRIS HARKNESS BOKUM,

1616 Marquette Building, Chicago, Ill. 609 East Division St. Chicago, Ill.

Agent for the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Co., Marquette Building, Chicago.

HARRY VARY BONNER,

Orwell, N. Y. LaFayette, N. Y.

Preaching in the Lafayette Presbyterian Church. Married on August 15, 1906, Miss Bessie Laney, at Altenar, N. Y.

EDWARD WILD BRADFORD,

Mill Brook, Mass.

19 College St., Providence, R. I.

Studying law in the office of Page, Page & Cushing, 19 College St., Providence, R. I.

JOHN ALFRED BRADLEY,

4020 Spruce St., Philadelphia, Pa.

With the Sterling Coal Co., mining and shipping of soft coal, 421 Chestnut St., Philadelphia.

JAMES CAMPBELL BRANDON,

205 North Main St., Butler, Pa. 27 Winthrop Hall, Cambridge, Mass.

Student, Harvard Law School.

PHILIP MARSTON BRASHER,

215 Montague St., Brooklyn, N. Y. 478 Willoughby Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Manager of Woodside Heights Land Corporation, Terminal Heights, L. I. Recuperating from football injuries and not working, summer of 1907.

FRANCIS MARK BROOKE,

Haverford, Pa.

In the bond business with H. W. Noble, Banking and Bonds, Land Title Building, Philadelphia, Pa.

Married on June 11, 1907, Miss Nanna Sturges, of Scranton, Pa.

JOHN NIXON BROOKS,

240 West State St., Trenton, N. J. Technology Chambers, Boston, Mass.

Studying civil engineering at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Boston, Mass.

ARCHER HITCHCOCK BROWN,

56 Munn Ave., East Orange, N. J. Catasauqua, Pa.

With Empire Steel and Iron Co., Catasauqua, Pa.

BRUCE WHITING BROWN,

Glendale, Ohio.

Reporter on The Times Democrat, New Orleans, La.

LEIGHTON EDMUND BROWN,

120 West Seventy-second St., New York City.

No replies.

GEORGE GILBERT BROWN,

130 Broad St., Newark, N. J. Short Hills, N. J.

Draughtsman with George Brown & Co., Cut Stone Contractors, 270 Passaic St., Newark, N. J.

HORACE BROWN,

2104 North Charles St., Baltimore, Md.

In the banking department of the Baltimore Trust and Guarantee Co., Equitable Building, Baltimore, Md.

FREDERICK SMITH BROWNLEE,

Port Gibson, Miss.

Hally, Col.

Telephone manager in the Colorado Telephone Co. Hally, Col.

WALTER BRUNSWICK,

43 St. Nicholas Place, New York City.

Civil engineer assistant to the Assistant Engineer of the West Shore R. R., Room 12, West Shore R. R. Station, Weehawken, N. J.

CHARLES CARROLL BURLEIGH,

210 East Maple Ave., Merchantville, N. J.

Collector and inspector with the J. J. Burleigh Corporations—Water Companies, Collections, Real Estate, 432 Market St., Camden, N. J.

GRANVILLE LINDSAY BURTON,

Care Crutchen & Starks, Louisville, Ky.

Traveling salesman for the Deimel Linen Mesh Underwear Co., 49 Broadway, New York City.

Married Miss Dorothy B. Husted, Dec. 28, 1907, at Winthrop Highlands, Mass.

ETHAN FLAGG BUTLER,

1535 "I" St., Washington, D. C. Johns Hopkins Medical School, Baltimore, Md.

Medical student at Johns Hopkins.

HERBERT FULTON BYRAM,

7614 Penn. Ave., Pittsburg, Pa. Ketchum, Idaho.

Superintendent of the Dollar Hide Mining Co., Ketchum, Idaho.

EDWIN ELLIOTS CALVERLEY,

2233 North Camac St., Philadelphia, Pa.

44 Alexander Hall, Princeton Theological Seminary, Princeton, N. J.

Divinity Student.

SAMUEL CAROTHERS,

146 South Fairmont Ave., Pittsburg, Pa-

In the clearing house department of the Marine National Bank, Pittsburg, Pa.

ROBERT EDGAR CASKEY,

1822 North 11th St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Salesman for the E. I. DuPont Powder Co., Wilmington, Del.

STUART ROBINSON CECIL,

1537 Fourth Ave., Louisville, Ky.

Lumber inspector and running a saw-mill in the woods for the Norman Lumber Co., Louisville, Ky.

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN CHAMBERLAIN,

Chester, Orange Co., N. Y.

192A Sixth Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

With A. B. Leach & Co., Investment Bonds, 149 Broadway, New York City.

NORMAN FLETCHER CHARLOCK,

663 North Broad St., Elizabeth, N. J.

No replies.

WILLIAM BRIDGMAN CHURCHMAN,

333 South 21st St., Philadelphia, Pa.

La Fe, Maguabo, Porto Rico.

Running a plantation.

Married, Nov. 14, 1907, to Miss Katherine Nicoll, of Babylon, L. I.

ELMER LOUIS CLINE,

1816 North Meridian St., Indianapolis, Ind. 310 East Main St. Marshalltown, Iowa.

With the Letts & Fletcher Co., branch of the Western Grocer Co., at Marshalltown, Iowa.

CHESTER MARTS CLOUD,

68 William St., New York City.

Insurance business with his father, J. G. Cloud.

GEORGE IRWIN COCHRAN,

Sewickley, Pa.

Care A. B. Chase Piano Co., Norwalk, O.

In the player-piano department.

PHILIP GILLETT COLE,

College of Physicians and Surgeons, New York City.

Student of medicine.

LOUIS HENRI CONDE,

1206 Broadway, Indianapolis, Ind.

Salesman for the H. T. Condé Implement Co., Indianapolis, Ind.

PHILLIP GRAHAM CONNELL,

Avenue House, Evanston, Ill.

Assistant superintendent in the Fitz Simons & Connell Co., General Contractors and Engineers, 1014 Tacoma Building, Chicago, Ill.

HARRY JOHN CONNOLLY,

1509 North Washington Ave., Scranton, Pa.

Studying law in the office of Willard, Warren & Knapp, Lawyers, 603-612 Connell Building, Scranton, Pa.

MARSHALL COXE,

1336 River Boulevard, St. Paul, Minn.

Office work with the Archer-Daniels Linseed Co., 29th Ave., S.-E., Minneapolis, Minn.

IRWIN DUNN COYLE,

Bridgeton, N. J.

Studying for the examination for admission to Pay Corps, U. S. N.

ALLEN CRAIG,

1822 "I" St., Washington, D. C. National Hotel, Millerstown, Pa.

In the engineering corps, Pennsylvania R. R., care W. K. Martin, assistant engineer, Lewistown, Pa.

ROBERT GOODWIN CRAIG,

1822 "I" St., Washington, D. C. 227 East 54th St., Chicago, Ill.

In the estimating department of the Link Belt Co., 39th St. and Stewart Ave., Chicago.

Married on December 31, 1904, Miss Celia H. Mc-Guire, of Washington, D. C.

Robert Goodwin Craig, Jr., born November 7, 1905.

GEORGE HOFFMAN CRESSE,

Swainton, N. J.

Teaching at Mercersburg Academy, Mercersburg, Pa.

JAMES FREDERICK CROSS, JR.

121 S. Munn Ave., East Orange, N. J.

Studying law at the New York Law School and in advertising work with Everybody's Magazine, 31 E. 17th St., New York City.

ROMAN RATHBURN CROTHERS, Elkton, Md.

Attorney in Elkton, Md. Studied law at Johns Hopkins and the University of Maryland.

GEORGE SMITH CUNNINGHAM,

Blairsville, Pa.

3739 Spruce St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Student in the medical department, University of Pennsylvania.

WARREN WARDLAW CUNNINGHAM, 224 Yazoo St., Yazoo City, Miss.

Student, New York Law School. Taught one year, Mount Tamalpais Military Academy, San Rafael, Cal.

WILLARD WALKER CUTLER, JR.,

Morristown, N. J.

Student of mining engineering, Columbia University, New York City.

OREN NEWTON DAGES,

1010 Bryden Road, Columbus, O. Technology Chambers, Boston, Mass.

Student, Harvard Medical School.

CARL NORTHUP DAILY,

44 Lincoln Ave., Detroit, Mich.

Occupation not yet determined.

HENRY GREGG DANBY,

1313 Delaware Ave., Wilmington, Del.

Secretary and Treasurer of the Wilmington Candy Co., 220 Market St., Wilmington, Del.

HENRY BUCKINGHAM DARLINGTON, 4924 Centre Av., Pittsburg, Pa.

Stock foreman in one of the mills of the Jones & Laughlin Steel Co., Pittsburg, Pa.

JAMES EVERETT DAVIS,

326 North Hyde Park Ave., Scranton, Pa.

No replies.

RAYMOND FOSTER DAVIS,

147 Orchard St., Bloomfield, N. J.

Photometer reader for the Westinghouse Lamp Co., Bloomfield, N. J.

WALTER SEAMAN DAVISON.

Hightstown, N. J.

Syrian Protestant College, Beirut, Syria.

Teacher of English.

JAMES S. DE TURCK,

Esterly, Pa.

Hackensack, N. J.

Teaching mathematics in the High School at Hacken-sack.

CHARLES DE WITT DE VINNE, 300 West 76th St., New York City.

With Theodore L. DeVinne & Co., Printers, 395 La-Fayette St., New York City.

ROBERT EDWARD DOANE,

404 Hoffman St., Elmira, N. Y.

Technology Chambers, Boston, Mass.

Student of electrical engineering at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

RODERICK AITKEN DORMAN, 28 West 69th St., New York City.

In the dry goods business with Aitken, Son & Co., 873 Broadway, New York City.

LEE DOUGLAS,

132 South Eighth Ave., Nashville, Tenn.

Studying Law at the Vanderbilt University Law School, Nashville.

RICHARD DOUGLAS,

110 South Eighth Ave., Nashville, Tenn. Hatchie, Tenn.

General manager of the Hatchie Lumber Co., Hatchie, Tenn.

RAYMOND WADE DRAKE,

980 Clinton Ave., Irvington, N. J.

With the Mountain Ice Co., 51 Newark St., Hoboken, N. J.

FRED STRANAHAN DURHAM,

The Bartram, 33d & Chestnut Sts., Philadelphia, Pa.

Treasurer of the Bonney Vise and Tool Works, 3011-3015 Chestnut St., Philadelphia.

JOSEPH EDWARD DURHAM, JR.,

The Bartram 33d & Chestnut Sts., Philadelphia, Pa.

Secretary of the Bonney Vise and Tool Works, 3011-3015 Chestnut St., Philadelphia.

OGDEN DUTCHER,

303 West 82d St., New York City. Newman, Scott County, Ark.

Secretary and Treasurer of the Brushy Creek Lumber Co., Waldron, Ark.

WILLIAM DYKEMAN,

657 Jefferson Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.

In the purchasing department of the N. Y. C. & H. R. R. R., Grand Central Station, New York City.

DEANE EDWARDS,

423 Laurel Ave., St. Paul, Minn.

Solicitor in the real estate business with E. M. & H. F. Ware, 312 National German American Bank Building, St. Paul, Minn.

HAROLD SYDNEY EDWARDS,

South Barre, Mass.

With the Barre Wool Combing Co., South Barre, Mass.

Married Miss Jettie Theola Wason, of Newburyport, Mass., on May 25, 1907.

JOHN LINCOLN EISELE,

59 Avon Ave., Newark, N. J.

With Eisele & King, Brokers, 757 Broad St., Newark, N. J.

JOHN DWIGHT EELLS,

Walton, N. Y.

144 Henry St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Reporter on The New York Tribune.

MARION EPPLEY,

361 Broadway, New York City.

West Orange, N. J.

Literary editor and advertising solicitor for The Scientific American, Munn & Co., 361 Broadway, New York City.

JOHN MONTAGUE ELY,

Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Bookkeeper in the People's Savings Bank, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

SANFORD GARLAND ETHERINGTON, 156 Fifth Ave., New York City.

Mining at El Salado, San Luis Potosi, Mexico.

ROBERT FAIRING,

57 Catherine St., Springfield, Mass.

Studying law at the New York Law School and teaching at the Stevens Preparatory School, Hoboken, N. J. New York address not known, as no circulars have been answered.

HENRY DENISON FISH, Hempstead, L. I.

Reporter in the city department of The New York Herald.

JOHN HENRY FITCH, JR., 102 Wick Ave., Youngstown, O.

With the John H. Fitch Co., Wholesale Grocers, 102-104 Wick Ave., Youngstown, Ohio.

Married on August 21, 1907, Miss Pearl Bowman Squire, of Youngstown, Ohio.

BROOKS FLEMING, JR., Fairmont, W. Va.

Mine superintendent in the Fairmont Coal Co., Fairmont, W. Va.

Married on November 15, 1906, Miss Amy J. Dodson, of Columbus, Ohio. She died February 9, 1907, of typhoid fever.

SAMUEL WILSON FLEMING, JR.,

104 South St., Harrisburg, Pa.

Kappa Alpha Lodge, South Bethlehem, Pa.

Student of mechanical engineering at Lehigh University.

ARCHIBALD KENNEDY FOWLER, JR.,

Caledonia, N. Y.

Princeton, N. J.

Studying English in the Graduate School at Princeton. Preparatory to teaching.

FREDERICK RUDOLPH FRANCKE, JR.,

2025 North Meridian St., Indianapolis, Ind. 310 East Main St., Marshalltown, Iowa,

With the Letts-Fletcher Co. Branch of the Western Grocery Co., Marshalltown, Iowa.

WILLIAM HENRY FRANKLIN,

Hightstown, N. J.

No replies.

HENRY WADE FREEMAN, JR.,

South Orange, N. J.

Clerk with the Harsbrown, Bogart & Battelle Co., Brokers, 25 Broad St., New York City.

WILLIAM COLEMAN FREEMAN.

Cornwall, Lebanon Co., Pa. 9 North Front St., Harrisburg, Pa.

Member of the Pennsylvania State House of Representatives from Lebanon County. Member of the Executive Committee, Board of Directors of the American Iron and Steel Co., Lebanon, Pa. Engaged to Miss Emily R. Henry, of Philadelphia.

LOUIS DANIEL FROELICK,

609 East 21st St., Brooklyn, N. Y. Care Robert Gailey, Peking, China.

With the Princeton Work in Peking.

BENJAMIN APPLEGATE FURMAN, 65 South 10th St., Newark, N. J.

Medical student at the College of Physicians and Surgeons, New York City.

JAMES CHAMBERLIN FURST, Bellefonte, Pa.

Lawyer.

ROBERT BARNES GALT,

63 Vandeventer Place, St. Louis, Mo.

Reporter on The St. Louis Times, St. Louis, Mo.

THOMAS FRANCIS GALVIN, JR.,

124 Tremont St., Boston, Mass. Richmond Court, Brookline, Mass.

With Thomas F. Galvin, Inc., Florist and Landscape Gardener, 124 Tremont St., Boston.

Married on August 23, 1907, Miss Mary Frances Cleneay, of Cincinnati, Ohio.

JOHN JOSLIN GARDINER,

Toledo, O.

The Miltimore, Toledo, O.

Manager of the mail order department and a director of the Hull Brothers Umbrella Co., Toledo.

JOHN HENRY GEHRKIN,

119 Java St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

No replies.

BENTON ROBERT GEIGER, 305 North Sandusky St. Tiffin, O.

Carpet salesman in the A. Weaver & Sons Co. Department Store, Fostoria, Ohio.

EDWARD ASHLEY GERHARD, 105 Harrison St., East Orange, N. J.

105 Harrison St., East Orange, N. J. 19 Lawrence Hall, Cambridge, Mass.

Studying for the ministry at the Episcopal Theological School, Cambridge, Mass., Class of 1909. Left Fisk & Robinson, Bankers, 35 Cedar St., New York, and tutored one-half year as equivalent for the first year in the seminary.

GALE TAYLOR GERMAN, 87 Canarsie Road, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Invoice clerk with Charles A. Schieren & Co., Tanning and Belt Manufactory, 30-38 Ferry St., New York City.

BROWNLEE HARPER GIBSON, 4504 Centre Ave., Pittsburg, Pa.

Booking-keeper in the real estate department of the Commonwealth Trust Co., 226 Fourth Ave., Pittsburg, Pa.

JAMES GILMORE, 2031 North Howard St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Teacher of English in the Central High School of Philadelphia.

FRANK PURNELL GLASS, JR., 1030 South Hull St., Montgomery, Ala.

Reporter on The Advertiser, Montgomery, Ala.

HARRY JACOB GOAS,

Schuylkill Haven, Pa.

With the N. Y. & N. J. Telephone Co., in New York City.

LILBURN TRIGG GOLDSBOROUGH, 924 St. Paul St., Baltimore, Md.

Clerk with B. S. Johnston & Co., Stock Brokers, Stock Exchange Building, Baltimore, Md.

JACK MILLER GOODENO, 62 North 6th St., Newark, N. J.

No reples.

KENNETH SAWYER GOODMAN, 5026 Greenwood Ave., Chicago, Ill.

Assistant treasurer of the Goodman Lumber Co., 1527 Railway Exchange Building, Chicago, Ill.

LATIMER GOODRICH.

11 Park Place, Keokuk, Iowa.

Not heard from.

JAMES WHITING GOPSILL,

125 Summit Ave., Jersey City, N. J.

Studying law, New York Law School.

GEOFFREY GRAHAM,

73 Hawthorne Place, Montclair, N. J.

Unoccupied when last heard from.

ALBERT EDWARD NEWTON GRAY, University Club, Newark, N. J.

Member of the firm of the Standard Leather Washer Manufacturing Co., 24-26 Boudinot St., Newark, N. J.

THEODORE FRANCIS NEWTON GRAY, University Club, Newark, N. J.

Member of the firm of the Standard Leather Washer Manufacturing Co., 24-26 Boudinot St., Newark, N. J.

CLAYTON WELLINGTON GREENE, 385 Jersey St., Buffalo, N. Y.

Medical student at the University of Buffalo, Buffalo, N. Y.

HAROLD BEEBE GREENLAND, 315 Oak St., Syracuse, N. Y.

Superintendent of the H. H. Franklin Manufacturing Co. Garage, Syracuse, N. Y.

PAUL MORROW HALE, 1203 E. First St., Duluth, Minn.

On the engineering force of the Oliver Iron Mining Co., Coleraine, Itasca County, Minn.

THOMAS PARKER HAMILTON, 333 West Fifth St., Erie, Pa. 306 East Ohio St., Chicago, Ill.

In the shop cost department of the Western Electric Co., Dept. 31-T, Chicago.

SINCLAIR HAMILTON,

Englewood, N. J.

Studying law, Columbia University Law School.

DANIEL STEWART HAMMACK, 144 East Avenue 55. Los Angeles, Cal.

Studying law in the office of Daniel M. Hammack, 722-726 Los Angeles Trust Building, Los Angeles, Cal.

ELBERT CLARENCE HARDY,

Care Morton Salt Co., Wyandotte, Mich.

Superintendent of one of the mines.

ARTHUR HARRIS,

36 Jay St., Newark, N. J. 63 Oxford St., Cambridge, Mass.

Studying law, Harvard Law School.

BERNARD HASBROUCK,

Nyack, N. Y.

Occupation not given.

FREDERICK KIBBE HASKELL,

Bradford, Pa.

In the oil business in Van Buren, Ind.

ARTHUR PIERSON HATCH,

Stamford, Conn.

Farming.

WILLIAM WOODHULL HAY,

157 West 123rd St., New York.

Studying law, Columbia Law School.

Married Miss Elizabeth B. Valk, December 19, 1907, New York City.

LOUIS LEE HAYES,

4389 Lindell Ave., St. Louis, Mo.

Salesman with J. Kennard & Sons, 4th and Washington Sts., St. Louis.

Married Miss Mary Lois Kilpatrick, November 23, 1907, at St. Louis, Mo.

MATTHEW COWDEN HAYES,

Lewisburg, Pa. 237 Beacon St., Boston, Mass.

Student of electrical engineering at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Boston. Assistant secretary, Princeton Alumni Association of New England.

WILLSON HAZARD,

74 North Arlington Ave., East Orange, N. J.

Engineer in the engineering department of the New York and New Jersey Telephone Co., 26 Cortlandt St., New York City.

RUNKLE FISHER HEGEMAN,

New Germantown, N. J. Baltimore, Md.

Medical student at Johns Hopkins University.

SIDNEY PARKER HENSHAW.

136 East Thirty-eighth St., New York City.26 Winthrop Hall, Cambridge, Mass.

Second year student at the Harvard Law School.

HARRISON SAYRE HIGBIE, 1013 Broad St., Newark, N. J.

Selling mason materials for J. R. Sayre, Jr., & Co., Newark, N. J.

WILLIAM WARREN HILDRETH,

Southampton, N. Y.

Medical student, College of Physicians and Surgeons, New York City.

FREDERICK STUBBINS HILL,

Britt, Iowa.

Assistant cashier of the Citizens' Bank, Britt, Iowa.

CLARENCE M. HILLEBRAND,

Wauboy, South Dakota,

Stock farming.

ROGER HINDS,

Queen Anne's Road, Richmond Hill, L. I. Princeton Club of New York.

Studying law, New York Law School, and working for Hinds & Noble, 31 West 15th St., New York City.

RAYMOND CLARENCE HOAG,

Waterford, N. J.

Principal of the Public School at Waterford, N. J.

AMOS NATHAN HOAGLAND,

Oxford, N. J.

Care United States Consul Rio de Janerio, Brazil.

In Brazil with Jennings 1907 for diamond mining. Was with the Veeder Manufacturing Co., Hartford, Conn.

LAWRENCE ST. JOHN HOBBIE, 315 Sixth Ave., Newark, N. J.

Salesman for the Oliver Typewriter Co., 310 Broadway, New York City.

FRANK JILLARD HOEN,

736 Jefferson St. Waverly, Baltimore, Md.

Studying law, University of Maryland. Country squire on his farm outside of Baltimore. No replies.

ROSSITER HOLBROOK

Ossining, N. Y.

No replies.

EDWARD PACKARD HOLDEN, JR. 82 High St., Madison, N. J.

Clerk in the commercial paper department of Blake Brothers & Co., Bankers, P. O. Box 607, New York City.

GEORGE ANTHONY HOPKINS,

180 Market St., Amsterdam, N. Y.

Has been one year in the Graduate School, Princeton. Intends to study law.

FOSTER ALBERT HOVEY,

Hardwick, Vt.

269 East Erie St., Chicago, Ill.

In the shop cost department of the Western Electric Co., 259 South Clinton St., Chicago, Ill.

FRANK RAY HOWE,

1740 "M" St., N. W., Washington, D. C. 124 South Parsons Ave., Flushing, L. I.

Engineer and manager of land development in the Queens Borough Corporation, corner Parsons and Queens Aves., Flushing, L. I.

BRISON HOWIE,

48 Sedgwick St., Mount Airy, Philadelphia, Pa. 211 Franklin, University of Pennsylvania.

Student at University of Pennsylvania.

WILLIAM STUDLEY HOYT,

45 Union Ave., Jamaica, L. I.

New York salesman for the J. W. & C. B. Sheridan Co., Manufacturers of bookbinding and book-printing machinery, 58 Duane St., New York City.

OLIVER B. HUGHES,

Third and Franklin Aves., Long Branch, N. J.

With R. H. Hughes, Contractor and Builder, 132 3d Ave., Long Branch, N. J.

EDGAR ALEXANDER ILL,

1002 Broad St., Newark, N. J. 350 West 71 St., New York City.

Studying medicine, College of Physicians and Surgeons, New York City.

JOHN RANKIN IRWIN,

633 Grand Ave., Keokuk, Ia.

No replies.

HARRY MATTHEWS JACK.

8 Elm St., Bradford, Pa.

Studying law with D. H. Jack, Bradford, Pa.

JAMES KENNEY JACKSON,

117 Chestnut St., Harrisburg, Pa.

Reading law in the office of Oscar L. Jackson, 222 Market St., Harrisburg, Pa.

LOUIS NORWOOD JAMES,

1621 Judson Ave., Evanston, Ill.

No replies.

HOMER HORTON JOHNSON,

511 West Water St., Elmira, N. Y.

Sheffield, Pa.

With the Forest Chemical Co.

JAMES J. JOHNSON,

Sheffield, Pa.

Department manager of department stores in Sheffield, Pa.

SYLVESTER JOHNSON, JR., 1617 North Meridian St., Indianapolis, Ind. Shattuck, Arizona, and Bisbee, Arizona.

Civil engineer.

J. RAYMOND JONES, 519 Arch St., Philadelphia, Pa.

No replies.

LAFON JONES,

509 Keller Building, Louisville, Ky. Caro, Mich.

Chief chemist in the Caro plant of the Michigan Sugar Co.

ROBERT HARRISON JONES, JR., 108 Merritts Ave., Athens, Ga.

In the insurance business as the Division Director of the National Union Life Association, Austell Building, Athens, Ga. Studying law at the University of Georgia.

WILLIAM ANSLEY JONES,

Mineral Point, Wis. De Pue, Ill.

Foreman in the acid plant of the Mineral Point Zinc Co., DePue, Ill.

HENRY CHRISTIAN KAHLER, 998 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y.

Assistant manager of sales for the Buffalo Forge Co., the Buffalo Steam Pump Co., and the George L. Squier Co., 490 Broadway, Buffalo, N. Y.

EMANUEL JOHN KALLINA,

Chester, N. Y.

44 Morgan Hall, Auburn, N. Y.

Student of theology at the Auburn Seminary, Auburn, N. Y.

HAROLD HALL KEITH, 1900 Prairie Ave., Chicago, Ill.

Salesman for the Illinois Electrical Co., 239 E. Madison St., Chicago, Ill.

EDWARD WASHBURN KELLOGG,

Vineland, N. J.

222 West Twenty-fourth St., New York City.

Assistant engineer with Waring, Chapman & Farquhar, Room 1001, 874 Broadway, New York City, doing sanitary engineering.

ROBERT WALLACE KELLOGG,

Alexander Hall, Princeton, N. J.

Graduate work in philosophy at Princeton. Graduated, Class of 1907.

FRANK KENNEDY,

Ross, Marin County, Cal.

With the Thompson, Starrett Co., Building Construction.

mENJAMIN WARFIELD KERR,

105 Mount Pleasant Ave., Newark, N. J. 20 East Witherspoon, Princeton, N. J.

Student in the electrical engineering school at Princeton, in the Class of 1908.

WILLIAM ERNEST KERSHAW, 215 East Penn St., Germantown, Pa.

Head of the commercial laboratory in the Electric Storage Battery Co., 19th St. and Allegheny Ave., Philadelphia, Pa.

CARL OTTO VON KIENBUSCH,

12 East Seventy-fourth St., New York City.

General utility man with the firm of C. H. Spitzner & Son, Wholesale Leaf Tobacco, 165 Front St., New York City.

LITTLETON KIRKPATRICK,

91 Lincoln Park, Newark, N. J.

Cr. Stewart Sugar Refining Co., Ciego de Avila, Cuba.

Representative of New York money invested.

FREDERIC LUTHER KLINE,

Ridgway, Pa.

Running the Kline Advertising Agency, 607 Ellicott Square, Buffalo, N. Y., and Larson Block, Ridgway, Pa.

Married on May 25, 1906, Miss Lella Ethel Case, in New York City.

DOUGLAS LAIRD,

48 Cluny Ave., Toronto, Canada. 375 Hunter St., Peterboro, Ont.

Working as a mill-hand in the flour mill of the Quaker Oats Co. at Peterboro, Ont.

HENRY WILLIAM LANGMANN.

121 West Fifty-seventh St., New York City.

Stock clerk in the Macmillan Co., 66 Fifth Ave., New York City.

EDWARD PENNIMAN LARNED,

Summit N. J.

In the law office of W. Z. Larned, 156 Broadway, New York City.

RICHARD SMITH LEAMING,

Dennisville, N. J. Morton Park, Ill.

Lawn engineer for Morton Park, Ill.

EUGENE HAMILTON LESLIE,

48 Auburn Ave., Columbus, O.

Student of mining engineering at Columbia University.

FRED CLAYTON LETTS,

1014 Greenwood Boulevard, Evanston, Ill. 3602 Main St., Kansas City.

House salesman with the Western Grocer Co., Kansas City, Mo.

FRANCIS ORVILLE LIBBY,

639 Congress St., Portland, Me.

Messenger in the Casco National Bank, Portland, Me. Expects to go to New York in banking.

THOMAS LIGGETT, JR.,

305 Bank St., Sewickley, Pa.

Care Western Allegheny R. R., New Castle, Pa.

Chief Engineer Western Allegheny R. R.

WILLIAM HENDRIE LLOYD,

3918 Walnut St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Salesman for the Dill & Collins Co., Printing Papers, 827 Filbert St., Philadelphia, Pa.

JOHN LEWIS LUCKENBACH, 26 Montgomery Place, Brooklyn, N. Y.

In the repair department of the Lewis Luckenbach Transportation Co., 129 Broad St., New York City.

WILLIAM LOGAN MacCOY,

Fifty-eighth St. and Overbrook Ave., Philadelphia, Pa.

Studying law at the University of Pennsylvania Law School. Taught English at the Haverford School for one year.

GORDON MACDONALD, JR., 13 West Sixteenth St., New York City. Morristown, N. J.

In the bond department of Strong, Sturgis & Co., 30 Broad St., New York City.

CHARLES GREEN MACKALL,

Savannah, Ga. Norfolk, Va.

Secretary and treasurer of the Gwathmey-Mackall Engineering Co., Atlantic Trust Building, Norfolk, Va.

CHARLES ARTHUR MACKENZIE,

39 Washington Square, New York City. Care Haskins & Sells, 30 Broad St., New York City.

Accountant with Haskins & Sells, Public Accountants. Married on June 12, 1906, Miss Berniece Stewart, in New York.

ALEXANDER ANDERSON MacKIMMIE, P. O. Box 182, Truro, Nova Scotia, Canada.

Teacher of modern languages at the Colchester Academy, Truro, N. S., and Boudinot Fellow in Modern Languages.

Married on April 6, 1906, Miss Jean Ross, in Brooklyn, N. Y.

Alexander Anderson MacKimmie, Jr., born December 24, 1906.

DONALD FRAZER MACPHERSON,

403 Craigie Hall, Cambridge, Mass.

Studying law at the Harvard Law School.

JOHN FRANCIS MACPHERSON, 200 North Grand Ave., Springfield, Ill.

Advertising work with Macpherson & Edward, Retail Dry Goods, Springfield, Ill.

CHESTER DUBOIS MAROUIS.

613 East Grove St., Bloomington, Ill. 118 Taylor St., Georgetown, S. C.

General manager of the Georgetown Chemical Works, Box 503, Georgetown, S. C.

THOMAS R. MATHEWS, 1376 East 112th St., Cleveland, O.

Advertising manager of the Cleveland Hardware Co., 45th St., N. E., and Lakeside Ave., Cleveland.

JOHN CLARKE MATTHAI,

National Enameling and Stamping Co., Baltimore, Md. Station E. Baltimore County, Md.

Salesman, National Enameling and Stamping Co., Manufacturers of Tin, Enamel, and Galvanized Ware, 1901 S. Light St., Baltimore.

ALBERT TOUZALIN MAURICE,

Athens, Pa.

Livingston Hall, Columbia University, New York City. Student, Columbia University Law School.

DUNCAN McCALLUM, 390 Union St., Memphis, Tenn.

No occupation given.

DANIEL FRANCIS McCARTHY,

169 Nassau St., Princeton, N. J.115 West Sixty-fourth St., New York City.

Civil engineer, chief of party, in the Pennsylvania R. R. Terminal, New York City, with the Westinghouse, Church, Kerr Co., 227 West 33d St., New York City.

Married on September 11, 1907, Miss Kathryn Penfold Warner, of Trenton, N. J.

NEAL McCLANAHAN,

Morning Sun, Iowa.

Xenia, Ohio.

Student, United Presbyterian Theological Seminary, Xenia.

PAUL McCLANAHAN,

Morning Sun, Iowa.

Xenia, Ohio.

Student, United Presbyterian Theological Seminary, Xenia.

SAMUEL K. McCLAY,

Wyoming Ave. and B St., Olney, Philadelphia, Pa.

Has completed a business college course.

ALFRED McCLURE, Wyncote, Pa.

No replies.

JAY COOKE McCLURE, Wyncote, Pa.

Assistant engineer in the Valley Forge Railroad System, 2129 Land Title Building, Philadelphia, Pa.

GEORGE DEARDORFF McCREARY, JR., 124 South Van Pelt St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Salesman, Whitney & Kemmeses, Wholesale Coal, 512 Stephen Girard Building, Philadelphia.

Married on June 20, 1906, Miss Ellen Marnoe Wharton Williams, of Philadelphia.

NORMAN LOCKWOOD McCUTCHEON,

Greenwich, Conn.

No replies.

KENNETH MARTIN McEWEN,

23 Church St., Amsterdam, N. Y. Princeton Club, New York City.

Student, New York Law School.

JULIAN ESSELSTYN McGIFFERT,

Roselle, N. J.

122 West 64th St., New York City.

General advertising, Frank Presbrey Co., 3 West 29th St., New York City.

WILLIAM TREDICK McINTIRE, 241 Summit Ave., Jersey City, N. J.

Stock clerk with T. A. McIntyre & Co., Bankers and Brokers, 71 Broadway, New York City.

GEORGE ROSS McKEE,

after Feb. 12th.

Riverside Drive and 119 St., New York City.

With F. R. Woods & Co., Real Estate, Broadway and 80th St., New York City.

Married Miss Christine W. Hayward, January 15, 1908, New York City.

EDWARD DUNCAN McKELLAR,

Forney, Texas.

Has been at the Eastman Business College, Pough-keepsie, N. Y.

ARCHIBALD AUGUS McLEOD, JR., Haddonfield, N. J.

Assistant bookkeeper in the Real Estate Trust Co., Philadelphia, Pa.

FRANCIS CONOVER McMILLAN,

Princeton, N. J.

No replies.

ALEXANDER McMILLAN,

Princeton, N. J.

19th St. and Franconia Ave., Flushing, N. Y.

Assistant Engineer in the Rickert-Finlay Realty Co., Broadway, Flushing, N. Y.

JOHN McHAUGHTON,

Kankanna, Wis.

No replies.

OSCAR HARMON McPHERSON,

Lawrenceville, N, J.

Teaching, Lawrenceville School.

DANIEL IVINS MESSLER, Deerfield, N. J.

No replies.

JOHN O. MILLER, Masontown, Fayette Co., Pa.

Front chainman in the engineer corps of the H. C. Frick Co., Masontown, Pa.

SUTHERLAND MILLER, 115 Amity St., Brooklyn.

Student of medicine at the Long Island College Hospital, Class of 1909.

HAROLD RUCKMAN MIXSELL, 216 Spring Garden, Easton, Pa. 350 West 71st St., New York City.

Student, College of Physicians and Surgeons, New York City.

JOSEPH ARTHUR MORRISON, 243 Madison Ave., Flushing L. I.

Civil engineer on the Technical Staff of the Long Island R. R., 44 Union Hall St., Jamaica, L. I.

HARRY LAWSON MOORE,

Clarion, Pa. New York City.

Real estate agent for the Garden City Estates, Flatiron Building, New York City.

LEWIS SPENCER MORRIS,

32 Liberty St., New York City.

Residence not settled. Studying law at the New York Law School.

Married on April 6, 1907, to Miss Emily Coster, of New York.

STERLING MORTON.

717 Railway Exchange, Chicago, Ill. 23 Lake Shore Drive, Chicago, Ill.

Salesman for the International Salt Co., 717 Railway Exchange, Chicago.

WILLIAM CALHOUN MOTTER,

St. Paul, Minn.

394 Laurel Ave., St. Paul, Minn.

Selling agent in the Northwest for H. L. George, Mill Agent and General Commission Merchant, Cotton and Woolens, 230 Endicott Building, St. Paul.

JOHN RANDALL MUNN,

13 Munn Ave., East Orange, N. J.

Rosebud, Nevada.

Secretary and treasurer of the Rosebud Mining and Leasing Co., Rosebud, Nev. Coaching football in Princeton, fall, 1907.

ORSON DESAIX MUNN,

361 Broadway, New York City.

Orange, N. J.

Learning the work of The Scientific American, Publishing and Patents, Munn & Co., 361 Broadway, N. Y.

CLAYTON ARTHUR MUSSER, 702 N. 6th St., Harrisburg, Pa.

With the Haines Oil Pump Co., York, Pa.

FRANCIS JOHN NASH,

Manitowac, Wis.

With the Forrest City Manufacturing Co., Forrest City, Ark.

FRED RUSSELL NASON,

North Andouse, Mass.

11 Liberal Club, Winnepeg, Canada.

No replies have been received from this address, but his friends have trailed him on a surveying party in the Canadian Northwest. He has been offered a position on a magazine.

CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN NICHOLLS, 713 Chestnut St., St. Louis Mo.

713 Chesthut St., St. Louis W

No replies.

WALTER CHARLES NEIS,

74 Main St., Madison, N. J.

Assistant managing clerk with Van Schaick & Brice, Lawyers, 100 Broadway, N. Y.

BOYD NIXON,

Bridgeton, N. J.

"The Carleton", Berkeley, Cal.

Selling machinery in the West.

JOSEPH HENRY NUELLE,

4807 Prairie Ave., Chicago, Ill. Norwich, N. Y.

Assistant engineer with the New York, Ontario and Western R. R., Norwich, N. Y.

WILLIAM PROCTOR SEABRIGHT OAKFORD, 405 Perry Ave., Peoria, Ill.

Draughting and surveying for the Harman Engineering Co., 109 S. Jefferson St., Peoria.

ALVAR DeCOMEAU O'BRIEN, 320 West 89th St., New York City.

No replies.

WALTER TOMPKINS ODELL,

Tompkins Cove, N. Y.

Started for the Philippine Islands, September, 1907.

GEORGE WARREN OFFUTT,

5508 Wisconsin Ave., Washington, D. C. 16 Mellen St., Cambridge, Mass.

Law student, Harvard Law School.

JOHN KELSO ORMOND,

Princeton, N. J. 909 North Spring St., Pensacola, Fla.

Teaching in the Pensacola Classical School, Pensacola, Fla.

ARTHUR ORR, 3rd,

Evanston, Ill. Hotel Fayot, Paris, France.

Studying for the Diplomatic Service at the Ecole Libredes Sciences Politiques. Address, Monroe & Co., 7 Rue Scribe, Paris, France.

LEMUEL OSBORNE,

55 Arlington Ave., East Orange, N. J. 3426 Holmes St., Kansas City, Mo.

With Ira G. Hedrick, Consulting Engineer, 309 Keith & Perry Building, Kansas City, Mo.

ARTHUR HOUGHTON OTIS,

Yonkers, N. Y.

Working in the electric shops of the Otis Elevator Co., Yonkers, N. Y.

GILBERT McCAULEY OVES,

116 Washington St., Harrisburg, Pa.

Draughtsman in the State Highway Department, Harrisburg, Pa.

EDWARD ALBERT PALMER,

First National Bank, Houston, Texas.

Banking.

FREDERICK PARKER,

Manasquan, N. J.

With Eisele & King, Brokers, 757-759 Broad St., Newark, N. J.

DYER PEARL, JR.,

34 West Seventy-third St., New York City.

With Pearl & Co., Bankers & Brokers, 27 William St., New York City.

OLIVER HAZARD PERRY, JR.,

Elmhurst, N. Y.

Student, New York Law School, New York City.

JAMES JUDD PETRIE,

Pulaski, N. Y.

73 Hawthorne Ave., Glen Ridge, N. J.

Traffic inspector in the General Manager's office, New York Telephone Co., 55 Franklin St., New York City.

ROBERT PETTIT,

1021 Greenwood Boulevard, Evanston, Ill.

Manager of the Gifford-Pettit Manufacturing Co., 1217 Devon Ave., Chicago, Ill.

Married on June 7, 1905, Miss Rachel Hazlehurst, of Evanston, Ill.

McNAIR ATWATER PHILLIPS,

1642 Sanderson Ave., Scranton, Pa.

No replies.

HENRY DOUGLAS PIERCE, JR.,

1415 North Meridian St., Indianapolis, Ind. 217 Winthrop Hall, Cambridge, Mass.

Student, Harvard Law School.

HOWARD OLMSTEAD PIERSON.

85 East Ave., Norwalk, Conn.

66 West Forty-sixth St., New York City.

Student, Columbia Law School, New York City.

RICHARD STEADMAN PITTS,

Warwick, N. Y.

In the concrete construction business.

ALBERT THOMAS POTTER,

1913 Spruce St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Care Quaker Oats Co., Atlantic City, N. J.

Manager Atlantic City branch of the Quaker Oats Co.

CHARLES PRESBREY,

3 West Twenty-ninth St., New York City. 2345 Broadway, New York City.

In advertising work with the Frank Presbrey Co., 3 West 29th Street, New York City.

THOMAS JEX PRESTON,

Traveling abroad on an art fellowship.

COLE BRITTON PRICE,

1727 North Washington Ave., Scranton, Pa.

Studying law in his father's office, 120 Wyoming Ave., Scranton.

JAMES McALPIN PYLE,

673 Fifth Ave., New York City. 403 Craigie Hall, Cambridge, Mass.

Studying Law at the Harvard Law School.

CHARLES LOUIS QUINTARD,

35 South Clinton St., Poughkeepsie, N. Y. 144 Pierrpont St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Studying law at the New York Law School and working in the Circulation Department of the Evening Mail, New York.

EWING LAWRENCE RAFFERTY.

With the Nernest Lamp Co., Garrison Place and Fayette Street, Pittsburg, Pa. (?) No replies.

CHARLES MUTHART REBERT, 312 Evans St., Pottstown, Pa.

Teacher of English and Mathematics in the Pottstown High School, Pottstown, Pa.

HOWARD BECK REED.

Seabright, N. J.

Student, College of Physicians and Surgeons, New York City. Writes magazine stories.

SAMUEL JACKSON REID, JR., 757 Hancock St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Student, New York Law School, and in the office of Roe & McCombs, 96 Broadway, New York City.

GEORGE HENRY REPPERT,

1045 South Negley Ave., Pittsburg, Pa. 264 Newbury St., Boston.

Student, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Boston.

HAROLD CHARLES RICHARD,

31 Broadway, New York City. 46 East Seventy-second St., New York City.

In the State Bank, 376 Grand Street, New York City.

RAYMOND BEATTY RICHARDSON,

2054 East Seventy-ninth St., Cleveland, O.

Shipping clerk with the Upson, Walton Co., Ship Chandlers, 1310 River Avenue, N. W., Cleveland.

WALTER WASHINGTON NORTH RIGHTER, "The Sherwood," Philadelphia, Pa.

Occupation not recorded. Was with the Keystone Bonding Co., Philadelphia.

MONTGOMERY ROBINSON.

Lovelock, Nevada.

Manager of the Lone Mountain Gold Mining Co., Lovelock, Nevada.

WILLIAM WHITE RODGERS,

317 North Limestone St., Springfield, O.

Secretary of the Electrical Construction Supply Co., Springfield.

FRANK BINGHAM ROLLINS,

"Grassland," Columbia, Mo.

287 Mill St., Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

Student at the Eastman Business College, Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

JOHN DAVISON RUE, JR.,

R. F. D. No. 2, Trenton, N. J.

14 Park St., Princeton, N. J.

Assistant in Chemistry at Princeton.

FRANK KEITH RYAN,

5558 Van Versen Ave., St. Louis, Mo.

Hampton, N. B., Canada.

Practicing law with F. H. Bacon, Holland Building, Seventh and Olive Streets, St. Louis.

HOWARD CONDIT SAYRE,

Madison, N. J.

Traveling salesman for L. A. Sayre & Co., manufacturers of hardware specialties, 334 Mulberry Street, Newark, N. J.

PHILIP HAYNES SCHAFF,

737 Ridge Ave., Allegheny, Pa.

General bookkeeper, Peoples National Bank, Pittsburg, Pa.

ALEXANDER HODGE SCOTT,

509 Hansberry St., Germantown, Pa.

Civil engineer, service foreman in the United Gas Improvement Co., Broad and Arch Streets, Philadelphia, Pa.

HENRI SCHWOB,

122 West Eighty-sixth St., New York City.

With Adolph Schwob, Importer and Exporter of Watches, 170 Broadway, New York City.

PAUL STARK SEELEY,

Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

Cambridge, Mass.

Law student, Harvard Law School.

JEHIEL GARDNER SHIPMAN,

Belvidere, N. J.

256 West Seventy-third St., New York City.

Student N. Y. Law School.

ISAAC LOPER SHOEMAKER,

226 North Laurel St., Bridgeton, N. J.,

In the managing department of the Cumberland Glass Manufacturing Co., Bridgeton, N. J.

LYNDEN BROWN SHOEMAKER,

Little Silver, N. J.

Civil Engineer with the Penn., N. Y. & L. I. R. R. Co., at 315 Fifth Avenue, New York City. Taught one year, C. E. department at Princeton.

HALSEY MELVILLE SIMMONS, 1706 Park Place, Baltimore, Md.

Journalism and Advertising with the Medical Journal Co., 608 Professional Building, Baltimore, Md. Expects to be with The Medical Review of Reviews, 616 Madison Avenue, N. Y., this winter.

FRANK PETERSON SIMONS,

905 Watchung Ave., Plainfield, N. J.

Studying law, New York Law School and in the office of Stuart & Stuart, 60 Wall Street, New York City.

GEORGE STEWART SIMONS, JR., 905 Watchung Ave., Plainfield, N. J.

No occupation given.

RANDOLPH STEWART SIMPSON, 1301 Rhode Island Ave., Washington, D. C.

Student of Electrical Engineering at Princeton.

SIDNEY MERVYN SINCLAIR,

Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

"Hog Driver" for T. M. Sinclair & Co., Pork Packers, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

HERBERT JAMES SMITH,

Putnam, Conn.

Junior member of the firm of Card & Smith, Civil Engineers, Putnam, Conn.

HOMER DEWHURST SMITH,

362 South Negley Ave., Pittsburg, Pa.

Receiving Teller in the Bank of Pittsburg, Pittsburg, Pa.

ROGER WILLIAMS SMITH,

Waterloo, Iowa.

Student, Harvard Law School. Degree of A. B., Harvard, 1907.

SHERBURN MERRILL SMITH, 3355 Grand Ave., Milwaukee, Wis.

Bookkeeper and Assistant Teller, Marshall & Ilsley Bank, Milwaukee.

KALMAN SPELLETICH,

1305 Arlington Ave., Davenport, Ia.

In the sales department of the U. N. Roberts Sash and Door Co., Davenport.

GEORGE S. SPOHN,

Krumsville, Pa.

8 S. E. Princeton.

Charles Scribner University Fellow in English at Princeton.

DAVID CHRISTIE STAGG,

Leonia, N. J.

Civil Engineer, office assistant with C. C. Vermeule. Consulting Engineer, 203 Broadway, New York City.

EDWARD OTIS STANLEY, JR.,

40 Hawthorne Ave., East Orange, N. J.

Student, Columbia University Law School.

GEORGE BLACK STEWART, JR.,

Auburn, N. Y.

Beirut, Syria.

Teaching English in the Syrian Protestant College, Beirut, Syria.

HENRY STICKNEY,

1612 Park Ave., Baltimore, Md.

Assistant Engineer on the Baltimore Sewerage Commission.

GEORGE WATERS STIEFF,

1222 St. Paul St., Baltimore, Md.

Roland Park, Baltimore, Md.

With Charles N. Stieff, Piano Manufacturer, 9 North Liberty Street, Baltimore, Md.

JOHN HUNT STITES,

1604 Cherokee Parkway, Louisville, Ky.

61 Kenyon Bld., Louisville, Ky.

Law Student.

BAYARD STOCKTON, JR.

"Morven," Princeton, N. J. 256 West Seventy-third St., New York City.

Student, New York Law School.

CHARLES HELME STRATER,

1127 Third Ave., Louisville, Ky. 406 Craigie Hall, Cambridge, Mass.

Law student, Harvard Law School.

E. N. STROM,

5811 Midway Park, Austin, Chicago, Ill.

With Pettibone, Milliken & Co., Railroad Supplies, 725 Marquette Building, Chicago.

CARL M. STROMBERG,

Saranac Lake, N. Y.

When last heard from, was in the engineering corps of the Indiana Steel Co., at Gary, Ind.

PAUL BARRETT SULLIVAN.

Care of Brooklyn Life, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Assistant Manager of the advertising department of Brooklyn Life.

Married on March 5, 1907, Miss Louise M. Hetrich, of Asbury Park, N. J.

ELIAS SUNSTEIN,

1132 Fayette St., Allegheny, Pa.

Studying law, Pittsburg Law School, and in the office of Weil & Thorp, 822 Frick Building, Pittsburg.

ADRON LEIGH SWAN,

219 1-2 South Washington St. Butte, Mont.

"Common Miner."

ADDISON F. M. TALBOTT,

55 Ketchum Place, Buffalo, N. Y.

Reporter on The Buffalo Times, Buffalo, N. Y.

Married on April 26, 1905, Miss Alice H. McKinney, of Buffalo, N. Y.

Alice Mary Talbott, born August 27, 1907, at Buffalo.

HARRY WOOLSON TAPLIN,

89 State St., Boston, Mass.

991 Massachusetts Ave., Cambridge, Mass.

General Manager of the Eagle Quarrying Co., 89 State St., Boston, Mass.

SWIFT TARBELL,

The Ansonia, New York City.

Secretary of the Garden City Estates, Flatiron Building, Broadway and 23d St., New York City.

Married on November 28, 1907, Miss Virgie Marguerite Whitcomb, at Garden City, L. I.

LEE CARLTON THAYER, JR.,

2460 Belle Fontaine St., Indianapolis, Ind.

Treasurer of the Lee C. Thayer Co., Greenfield, Ind.

HERBERT STEPHEN THOMPSON,

Kingston, N. J.

107 Halsey St., Newark, N. J.

Civil engineer, chief of party, the Hudson Companies, 44 Hudson Place, Hoboken, N. J.

NORMAN BROWN TOOKER,

28 Evergreen Place, East Orange, N. J. 147 West Sixty-third St., New York City.

Student, College of Physicians and Surgeons, New York City.

BARRY EYRE TOWNSEND,

Fina, O.

No replies.

JOSEPH MONTGOMERY TRACE,

227 West State St., Harrisburg, Pa.

317 Bushkill St., Easton, Pa.

Telephone electrician with the Western Electric Co., New York and Chicago.

WILLIAM FITZHUGH TURNER,

1328 Jackson Ave., New Orleans, La. Almada, Cal.

Civil engineer, in the assistant resident engineer's office of the Southern Pacific R. R., 3d and Townsend St. station, San Francisco, Cal.

FREDERIC ULLMANN, JR.

282 East Forty-eighth St., Chicago, Ill.

Student, Northwestern University Law School, 1803 Fisher Building, Chicago, Ill.

SAMUEL UPDEGRAFF,

306 Amber St., Pittsburg, Pa.

Stock foreman in one of the mills of the Jones & Laughlin Steel Co., Pittsburg, Pa.

GIFFORD MILLS UPTEGROVE,

Care of Uptegrove & Polhemus, 1 Madison Ave., N. Y. New Caanan, Conn.

Member of the firm of Uptegrove & Polhemus, in the lumber business, I Madison Avenue, New York.

PERCY LINWOOD URBAN,

Lansdale, Pa.

Princeton, N. J.

Special Fellow in English.

OLIVER DeGRAY VANDERBILT, JR., 45 Evergreen Pl., East Orange, N. J.

6 East Thirtieth St., New York City.

United States representative of "Perrier" Imported French Table Water, 6 East 30th St., N. Y.

RICKER VAN METRE,

Shahola, Pike County, Pa.

Deer River, Minn.

Sales manager of the Shahola Lumber Co., Shahola,

Married on June 19, 1907, Miss Louise G. Watkins, of St. Paul, Minn.

HUBERT VAN ZANDT,

102 Greenwood Ave., Trenton, N. J.

Hotel Carnegie, Munhall, Pa.

Sales agent for the U.S. Steel Corporation, Carnegie Building, Pittsburg, Pa.

JACQUES LEONARD VAUCLAIN,

Rosemont. Pa.

Showing them how to build engines at the Baldwin Locomotive Works, Philadelphia, Pa.

DONALD CUYLER VAUGHAN,

Garden City, L. I.

Expects to go to Oxford, fall of 1907, to study English literature.

ROBERT GRINSTEAD VAUGHAN, 1119 Third Ave., Louisville, Ky.

Partner in the Vaughan Manufacturing Co., Extension Table Slides, 916-920 Congress St., Louisville, Ky.

RUSSELL CHARLES VEIT,

171 West Seventy-first St., New York City.

Receiver for the Brown & Fleming Contracting Co., 129 Broad Street, New York City.

EDWARD CARRINGTON VENABLE, JR.,

Peterboro, Va.

Writing articles for magazines and books and doing literary work in general.

JOSEPH ROY VETTERLEIN,

Radnor, Pa.

Manager of the advertising department of Vetterlein Brothers, Tobacco Manufacturers, 144 N. 5th St., Philadelphia.

CLIFFORD IRVING VOORHEES,

18 Livingston Ave., New Brunswick, N. J. Savings Institution Bld., New Brunswick, N. J.

In the office of Willard Voorhees, Attorney-at-Law, Savings Institution Building, New Brunswick. Expects to return to New York Law School next year and finish his course. He can then commence practicing immediately, having taken the required year in an office.

THOMAS ENNALLS WAGGAMAN,

Annapolis, Md.

1631 19th St., N. W., Washington, D. C.

With John F. Waggaman, Real Estate, Loans and Insurance; vice-president and general manager of the West End Storage Co., 1321 F St., N. W., Washington; director Annapolis Banking and Trust Co., Annapolis.

Married on October 6, 1906, Miss Frances Margaret Fuller, at Philadelphia.

Thomas Ennalls Waggaman, Jr., born at Washington, July 20, 1907.

HENRY BABCOCK WALKER, 800 Riverside, Evansville, Ind.

Lawyer, junior partner in the firm of Walker & Walker, Lawyers, 217 Upper Third St., Evansville, Ind.

JOHN CADWALLADER WALLER,

Skaneateles, N. Y.

No replies.

WILLIAM HEMMINGS WALSH,

349 Van Buren St., Brooklyn, N. Y. Care Navy Department, Washington, D. C.

Midshipman in the United States Navy, U. S. S. Virginia.

WILLIAM CLYDE WESTCOTT,

Union City, Pa.

Endeavor, Forest Co., Pa.

Manager of J. D. Westcott & Son's mill at Endeavor, Pa.

WARREN CALVIN WHITNEY,

184 West Main St., Norwalk, Ohio

Learning the business and selling player-pianos for the A. B. Chase Piano Co., Norwalk, Ohio.

SILAS MOORE WILEY,

77 East 47th St., Chicago, Ill. 803 South State St., Ann Arbor, Mich.

Law Student, University of Michigan.

ELLIOTT CHURCHILL WILLIAMS,

Beverly Apartments, Evanston, Ill.

Insurance Solicitor for the Columbian National Life Insurance Co., 622 First National Bank Building, Chicago, Ill.

RAYMOND STORM WILLIAMS, 73 Hawthorne Ave., Glen Ridge, N. J.

Assistant manager of the Montclair branch of the N. Y. & N. J. Telephone Co.

ARTHUR EDWIN WILSON,

230 So. Fairmount Ave., Pittsburg, Pa. 909 North Spring St., Pensacola, Fla.

Teacher of mathematics in the Pensacola Classical School.

THOMAS MULLEN WOODWARD,

311 No. 37th St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Student of medicine at the University of Pennsylvania.

ARCHIBALD COTTER WORTH,

Creeskill, N. Y.

Studying medicine at the New York Homœopathic College, 64th St. and Ave. A, New York City.

DANIEL GULDIN YODER,

Oley, Pa.

170 Orange Ave., Irvington, N. J.

Head of the commercial department in the Irvington High School.

HAROLD ZEISS,

11 Aldine Square, Chicago, Ill.

No replies.

Members Who Have Been Connected with the Class but Who Have Not Been Heard from since They Left.

These are the best addresses obtainable. If any member of the Class knows the address or occupation of any of the following, kindly send such information to the Secretary.

Charles Henry AdamsPortland, Me.
Griswold AdamsErie, Pa.
Harry Edgar AndrewsNew Bethlehem, Pa.
Kirk Rose BachmanKnoxville, Tenn.
Morey C. Bartholomew
John Insley Blair, 3d706 Jefferson Avenue, Scranton, Pa.
George Frederick BrensingerJersey City, N. J.
Paul Lorenzo Brooke
James Twitchell Brown
Clarence Oakley BurgessBaltimore, Md.
Harry Percival Butler
John Lawrence CampbellBrooklyn, N. Y.
Robert Erskine Campbell, JrPrinceton, N. J.
Seth Catlin
James Harmon Cruickshank
Carl W. Dailey
Malcolm Hayward DavidsonFishkill, N. Y.
John Hall Deane, Jr
Roger Dunscombe
Daniel Conan Eagan
Blaine Elkins, West Virginia
Raoul Herbert Fleischmann4 West 77th Street, New York City
J. C. Furst
Philip Gordon
John Douglas GordonPhiladelphia, Pa.
Norman HallettNew York City

William H. Harden
Matthew Kennedy HarrahBeaver, Pa.
B. Hasbrouck
Fred C. HavensPoint Pleasant, N. J.
Edward Florence Hays, JrPittsburg, Pa.
Norman Young HearnFt. Snelling, Minn.
Harry Lawrence HearnFt. Snelling, Minn.
Herbert Clinton Hemmingway16 William Street, East Orange, N. J.
William Wayne Hindeman
Chauncey Todd HortonNew York City
Philip Louis Inch
Joe Thorn Jackson
Theodore Davis Keech
Herbert Franklin Williams Ketcham212 Gates Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.
Paul Laidley3538 Washington Avenue, St. Louis, Mo.
Herrick Johnson LaneFremont, Ohio
Schuyler Maurice LeggettWest New Brighton, Staten Island
Harrison Barksdale Lightcap, Jr
Hosea Stetson Look
Harold C. LyonsNew York City
C. G. MarshallSavannah, Ga.
G. Marshall, Jr13 W. 16th Street, New York City
B. F. R. McGee355 Fairmount Avenue, Jersey City, N. J.
Frederick Wilson Moore
John S. Nicholl
Arthur NicholsonOakmont, Pa.
George Burton Nicholson
George Patton
Harold Dinsmore Phillips
John Pogue2312 Park Avenue, Cincinnati, Ohio
Eugene Cowles Pomeroy
Stanton Greene Prentiss
Charles Russell Prentiss2118 St. Paul Street, Baltimore, Md.
Charles Wesley Preston, Jr912 St. Marks Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y. Carl Ritter Purtill
James Chandler RayDuluth, Minn. Robert Peter RentschlerHamilton, Ohio
Charles Redner Richards13 E. 31st Street, New York City
William Rittenhouse406 West Marshall Street, Norristown, Pa.
Bruce W. Seeton
George Schober301 Fifth Street, Jersey City, N. J.
Francis Burritt Shepard
William J. Simpson1231 Madison Avenue, New York City
Lane Kimball Stone, JrNew York City
Lane Rimban Stone, Jr

H. W. Tapin
Thomas Oxenbridge Thacher	Albany, N. Y.
Edward Gerrish Thurber	Detroit, Mich.
R. L. Ullman	Baltimore, Md.
H. D. Valentine	,
A. D. Van Dyke	Princeton, N. J.
Robert Marshall Wilson
Eugene Dutihl Wisner	Summit N I
—	······································
Total	·····

In Memoriam

ROBERT HOMER GAINES

August, 1903.

CLAUDE A. ALEXANDER

April 9, 1904.

CLARENCE CARNAGHAN NEVIN

Мау, 1906.

GEORGE WITHERS EVANS

April 21, 1906.

FREDERICK HENRY COSSITT

July 1, 1906.

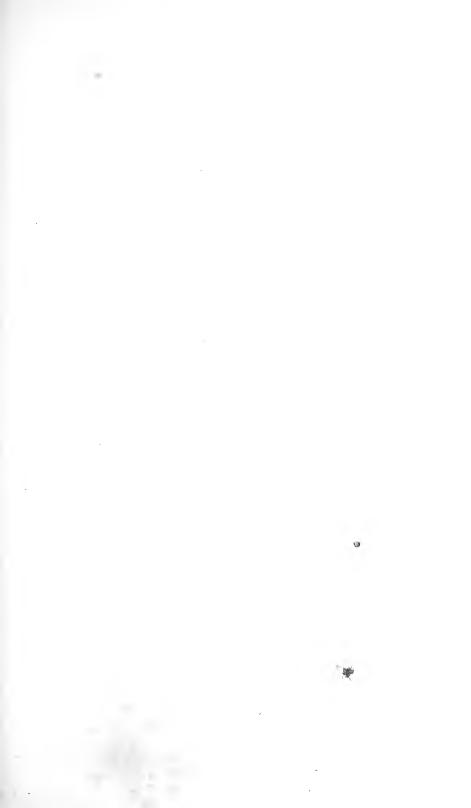

ELBERT LEE BARNEY

May 14, 1907.

PAUL E. OBERNDORF

October 13, 1907.

How 1906 is divided in Business THE BUSINESS MEN, 207

COMMERCIAL, 51

Bell Bradley Brownlee Burleigh Burton Caskey Cline Cochran Coxe Danby Dorman Drake Dykeman Fitch Francke Galvin Gardiner Geiger German Gibson Goas Greenland Haskell Hayes, L.L. Higbee Hobbie

Hoyt Johnson, J. J. Keith Kienbusch Letts Lloyd Luckenbach Mackenzie Matthai McCreary Morton Motter Musser Nixon Petrie Potter Rafferty Richardson Schwob Spelletich Strom Thayer Vanderbilt Van Zandt Williams, R. S.

MANUFACTURING, 37

Baker Brown, A. H. Brown, G. G. Condé Craig, R. G. Darlington Davis, R. F. Durham, F. S. Durham, J. E. Edwards, H. S. Gray, A. E. N. Gray, T. F. N. Greenland Hamilton, T. P. Hovey Johnson, H. H. Jones, L. Jones, W. A. Kahler Kershaw Laird Marquis Mathews Otis Pettit Rodgers Sayre Shoemaker, I. L. Sinclair Stieff Trace Updegraff Uptegrove Vanghan, R. G. Vetterlein Westcott Whitney

CONSTRUCTION, 4

Kennedy Anderson Hughes Pitts

BANKING AND BROKERAGE, 25

Abbott Holden Ambrose, C. A. Libby Barr Macdonald Bird McIntyre Brooke McLeod Brown, H. Palmer Carothers Parker Chamberlain Pearl Richard Eisele Ely Schaff Smith, H. D. Smith, S. M. Freeman, H. W., Jr. Goldsborough

Hill

INSURANCE, 4

Bokum Waggaman Cloud Williams, E. C.

ENGINEERING, 31

Miller, J. Abbey Barry Morrison Muelle Brunswick Connell Craig, A. Oakford Osborne Hale Oves Hazard Thompson Turner Howe Johnson, S. Leaming Scott Shoemaker, L. B. Smith, H. J. Kellogg, E. W. Liggett Mackall Stagg Stickney McCarthy McClure, J. C. Stromberg Vauclain McMillan, A.

JOURNALISM AND EDITORIAL, 9

Bartram Galt Brown, B. W. Glass Eells Simmons Fish Talbott Froelick

PUBLISHING, 6

Ambrose, H. W. Eppley Bliss Langmann DeVinne Munn, O. D.

ADVERTISING, 6

Balmer McGiffert Kline Presbrey Macpherson, J. F. Sullivan

MINING, 9

Bard Munn, J. R.
Byram Robinson
Etherington Swan
Fleming, B., Jr. Taplin
Hardy

REAL ESTATE, 8

Adams, LeB. Edwards, D. Banigan McKee Brasher Moore Burleigh Tarbell

LUMBER INDUSTRIES, 6

Cecil Goodman
Douglas, R. Nash
Dutcher Van Metre

FARMING, 4

Anders Hatch Churchman Kirkpatrick

MISCELLANEOUS BUSINESS, 1

Nason

PRACTICING LAWYERS, 4

Crothers Ryan Furst Walker

POLITICAL, I

Freeman, W. C.

CONTRACTING, 1

Veit

MISCELLANEOUS, 51

PREACHER, 1

Bonner

UNITED STATES NAVY, 1

Walsh

THE TEACHERS, 14

Archer McPherson, O. H.
Barnes Ormond
Davison Rebert
DeTurck Rue
Gilmore Stewart
Hoag Wilson
MacKimmie Yoder

UNEMPLOYED (AT LAST REPORT), 8

Bates Graham, G.
Bergner McCallum
Coyle Odell
Daily Simons, G. S.

OCCUPATIONS NOT REPORTED, 27

Jones, J. R. McClure, A. Ackley Alden Brown, E. L. Charlock McCutcheon McMillan, F. C. Davis, J. E. Franklin McNaughton Messler Gehrkin Nicholls Goodens O'Brien Goodrich Phillips, MacN. A. Hasbrouck Righter Hoagland Townsend Holbrook Waller Zeiss Irwin James

The Students, 97

STUDENTS OF LAW, 54

NEW YORK LAW SCHOOL, 17

Baiter Beaty	Perry Ouintard
Cross	R eid
Cunningham, W. W. Fairing	Shipman Simons, F. P.
Gopsill	Stockton
Hinds	Venable
McEwen	Voorhees
Morrie

HARVARD LAW SCHOOL, 13

Armstrong Bannwart Berry Brandon Harris Henshaw		Offutt Pierce Pyle Seeley Smith, R. V Strater	N.
Macpherson, l	D. F.	Strater

COLUMBIA LAW SCHOOL, 5

Hamilton, Hay	S.	Pierson Stanley
Maurice

OTHER SCHOOLS, 7

	OTTILLE COLLEGE
Douglas, L. Hoen Jones, R. H. MacCoy		Sunstein Ullman Wiley

OFFICES 1

	OFFICES, 12
Alexander Bartholomew Black Bradford Connolly	OFFICES, 12	Jack Jackson Larned Neis Price Stites
Hammack		Stres

STUDENTS OF MEDICINE, 15

COLLEGE OF PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS, 7

Mixsell

Tooker

Reed

Cole Furman Hildreth

I11

UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA, 2

Cunningham, G. S. Woodward

JOHNS HOPKINS, 2

Butler Hegeman

ELSEWHERE, 4

Dages Miller, S. Greene Worth

STUDENTS OF ENGINEERING, 9

ELECTRICAL

Doane Kerr Hayes, M. C. Simpson

MINING

Cutler Leslie

MECHANICAL

Fleming, S. W., Jr.

CIVIL

Brooks Reppert

STUDENTS OF THEOLOGY, 5

Calverly McClanahan, N. Gerhard McClanahan, P. Kallina

STUDENT OF ARCHITECTURE, 1

Atherton

GRADUATE STUDENTS, 10

PRINCETON UNIVERSITY

Cresse Kellogg, R. W. Fowler Spohn Urban

IN PARIS

Orr

IN ITALY

Preston, T. J., Jr.

ELSEWHERE

Howie

Vaughan, D. C.

BUSINESS COLLEGE, 3

McKellar McClay Rollins

Recapitulation

THE BUSINESS WEST	207
Commercial, Manufacturing, Construction, etc	-
Banking, Brokerage, Insurance	. 29
Engineering	. 31
Journalism, Editorial, Publishing	. 15
Advertising	. 6
Mining	_
Real Estate	. 8
Lumber	. 6
Farming	. 4
Miscellaneous	. І
Lawyers	. 4
Contracting	. I
Political	. I
Miscellaneous	51
Preacher	. r
Navy	. г
Unemployed	. 8
Occupations Not Reported	. 27
Teachers	. 14
Students	97
Law	. 54
Medicine	. 15
Engineering	. 9
Theology	. 5
Architecture	. r
Graduate	. 10
Business College	. 3
*Total	 355

How 1906 Encircles the Globe

ALABAMA

Glass

ARIZONA

Johnson*

1 los

ARKANSAS

Dutcher*

Nash

CALIFORNIA

Barnes* Cunningham* Nixon* Turner*

Hammack

COLORADO

Brownlee

Munn*

CONNECTICUT

Cutler*

Smith, H. J.

Hatch

DELAWARE

Danby

FLORIDA

Ormond*

Wilson*

GEORGIA

Jones, R. H.

IDAHO

Byram*

ILLINOIS

Balmer

Bard Bokum

Sard

Connell Craig* Goodman

Goodman Hamilton* Hovey* Jones, W. A.* Keith Letts

Macpherson, I. F. Oakford

Orr Pettit Strom Ullmann

Williams

INDIANA

Condé Thayer Haskell* Walker

IOWA

Cline* Sinclair
Ely Smith, R. W.
Francke* Spelletich

KENTUCKY

Cecil Vaughan Stites

MAINE

Libby

MARYLAND

Brown, H. Hoen
Butler* Matthai
Crothers Simmons
Goldsborough Stickney
Hegeman* Waggaman

MASSACHUSETTS

Atherton* Haves* Abbott* Henshaw* Bannwart Macpherson Berry* Offutt* Brandon* Pierce* Brooks* Pyle* Doane* Reppert* Edwards Seeley* Strater* Galvin Gerhard Taplin Harris*

MICHIGAN

Dailey Jones*
Durham* Wiley*
Hardy

MINNESOTA

Coxe Hale Edwards VanMetre*

MISSISSIPPI

Alexander

MISSOURI

Galt Motter*
Hayes Osborne*

82

MONTANA

Swan

NEVADA

Robinson

Munn

NEW JERSEY

Alden* Ambrose, C. A. Ambrose, H. W. Anderson Armstrong Barr Bartram Bates Bliss Brown, G. G. Burleigh Calverly* Coyle Cresse Cross Davis De Turck* Drake Eisele Fowler* Freeman, H. W. Furman Gopsill Graham Gray, A. E. N. Gray, T. F. N. Hamilton

Hobbie Holden Hopkins* Hughes Kellogg Kerr Larned MacDonald* McIntire McLeod McPherson Neis Parker Petrie* Potter* Ralph* Reed Rue Sayre Simons Shoemaker, I. L. Shoemaker, L. B. Spohn* Stagg Thompson Voorĥees Williams

NEW YORK

Abbey
Baiter
Barry
Bartholomew
Beaty*
Bird
Bonner
Brasher
Brunswick
Burton
Chamberlain
Cloud
Cole*
DeVinne
Dorman

Hazard

Higbie Hoag

MacKenzie
Maurice*
McCarthy*
McEwen
McGiffert*
McKee
McKellar*
McMillan*
Miller
Hasbrouck
Mixsell*
Morris
Morris
Munn, O. D.
Nuelle*

Worth

Yoder*

Dykeman Eells Eppley Fish Froelick Greene Greenland German Hasbrouck Hay Hildreth Hinds Howe* Hoyt II1* Johnson, H. H. Kahler Kallina Kellogg* Kienbusch Langmann Leslie*

Odel1 Otis Perry Pierson* Pitts Presbrey Quintard Reid Richard Rollins* Schwob Simons* Stanley* Stockton* Sullivan Talbott Tarbell Tooker* Uptegrove Vanderbilt Vaughan Veit Walsh

NORTH CAROLINA

Archer

Luckenbach

OHIO

Brown, B. W. Cochran*
Dages
Gardiner
Geiger
Mathews

McClenahan, N. D. McClenahan, P. H. Richardson Rodgers Whitney

PENNSYLVANIA

Anders Baker Bell Bergner Bradley Brooke Brown, A. H.* Carothers Caskey Connolly Craig* Cunningham Durham Fleming Freeman, W. C. Furst Gibson Gilmore

McClay
McClure
McCreary
Miller
Moore
Musser
Oves
Price
Rafferty
Rebert
Righter
Schaff
Scott
Simpson*
Smith, H. D.
Sunstein
Trace

MacCoy

Howie
Jackson
Johnson
Kennedy*
Kershaw
Kline
Liggett
Lloyd

Updegraff Urban Van Zandt* Vauclain Vetterlein Westcott Woodward

RHODE ISLAND

Banigan Bradford*

SOUTH CAROLINA

Marquis*

TENNESSEE

Douglas, L. McCallum Douglas, R.

TEXAS

Adams Palmer

VIRGINIA

MacKall* Venable

WASHINGTON

Black

WEST VIRGINIA

Darlington* Fleming

WISCONSIN

Smith, S. M.

BRAZIL

Hoagland

CUBA

Kirkpatrick*

MEXICO

Etherington

CANADA

Nason*

Laird

MacKimmie Ryan*

SYRIA

Davison* Stewart*

*Temporarily.

Numerical Distribution

New York	76
New Jersey	59
Pennsylvania	51
Massachusetts	21
Illinois	18
Ohio	11
Maryland	10
Iowa	7
California	5
Michigan	5
Indiana	4
Missouri	4
Minnesota	4
Connecticut	3
Kentucky	3
Tennessee	3
Virginia, West Virginia, Arkansas, Florida, Rhode Island, Col-	- orado, Texas, Nevada (2 each)	16
Georgia, Arizona, Kansas, Washington, Alabama, Mississippi, North Carolina, Idaho, Delaware, Montana, Wisconsin, Maine, South
Carolina (1 each)	13
Mexico	I
Brazil	I
Cuba	I
Syria	2
Canada	4
•
Total	222

Marriages 24

Harry Varry Bonner	Bessie Laney
August 15, 1906, Altwar, N. Y.
Francis Mark Brooke	Nanna Sturges
June 11, 1907, Scranton, Pa.
	Bhima Husted
December 28, 1907, Winthrop Highlands, M.	ass.
William Bridgman Churchman, Jr.	Catherine Nicoll
November 14, 1907, Trinity Chapel, N. Y.
Robert Goodwin Craig Ce	lia H. McGuire
December 31, 1904, Washington, D. C.
Robert Goodwin Craig, Jr.,
born November 7, 1905, at Chicago, Ill.
Harold Sydney Edwards Jettie	Theola Wason
May 25, 1907, Newburyport, Mass.
John Henry Fitch, Jr. Pearl	Bowman Squire
August 21, 1907, Youngstown, O.
Brooks Fleming, Jr.	Amy J. Dodson
November 15, 1906, at Columbus, O.
Wife died February 9, 1907, in Columbus, a	fter
one month's illness from typhoid.
Thomas Francis Galvin, Jr. Mary I	Frances Cleneay
August 23, 1907, Brookline, Mass.
William Woodhull Hay	lizabeth B. Valk
December 19, 1907, New York City.
Louis Lee Hayes Mary	Lois Kilpatrick
November 23, 1907, St. Louis, Mo.
	ella Ethel Case
May 25, 1906, New York City.
Onarico riacinar inaccionere	erniece Stewart
June 12, 1906, New York City.
Alexander Anderson MacKimmie	Jean Ross
April 6, 1906, Brooklyn, N. Y.
Alexander Anderson MacKimmie, Jr.,
born December 24, 1906, at Truro, Nova Sc	otia.
	Penfold Warner
September 11, 1907, Trenton, N. J.

George D. McCreary, Jr. Ellen Marnoe Wharton Williams June 20, 1906, Philadelphia, Pa.

George Ross McKee Christine Watson Hayward
January 15, 1908, New York City.

Lewis Spencer Morris Emily Pell Coster
April 6, 1907, New York City.

Robert Pettit Rachel Hazlehurst
June 7, 1905, Evanston, Ill.

Paul Barrett Sullivan Louise M. Hetrick March 15, 1907, Asbury Park, N. J.

Addison F. M. Talbott Alice H. McKinney
April 26, 1905, Buffalo, N. Y.

Alice Mary Talbott, born August 27, 1907, at Buffalo, N. Y.

Swift Tarbell Virgie Marguerite Whitcomb November 28, 1907, at Garden City, L. I.

Ricker Van Metre Louise G. Watkins June 19, 1907, St. Paul Minn.

Thomas Ennalls Waggaman Frances Margaret Fuller October 6, 1906, Philadelphia, Pa.

Thomas Ennalls Waggaman, Ir.,

Mid Winter Jollity in New York

Shave Vanderbilt was a busy and most entertaining toastmaster. After outlining the history of the class in facetious vein, from which it was plain that no other class existed or ever would which could be so blest with riches of ability, the power and the all-around greatness that 1906 abounds in, he proceeded to elicit the class's praises from its sons gathered around the festive board. He was a jolly and ready master of ceremonies only there was no ceremony. The tributes of the faithful ranged from a good old German song and yodel from Ed III to a speech from our Statesman Bill Freeman, who had left his legislative duties in Harrisburg to come all the way to New York for the dinner. Bill gave us a cracking good talk, short and crisp and full of splendid class spirit and loyalty. President Samuel Jackson Reid, Jr., started the ball rolling with a benign look over the condition of the class. said it certainly looked good to him and then let loose on a fund of stories. The secretary told of what some of the absent brothers were doing. The fun and jubilee then began. Harry Bliss, Walter Righter, Harry Ambrose, Pat Charlock, Ken. McEwen and Silent Ned Larned felt moved to spread the good news of the glory of 1906. Julian Beaty gave a strong talk on real class spirit and the singular opportunity of the younger graduate to help solve the University's problems. Telegrams and letters of greeting were read from Don MacPherson, Deane Edwards and Marshall Coxe.

The disappointment of the dinner was that Hinman Bird, who had worked it up and perfected the arrangements was prevented from coming. His conscientious work in making the details everything that could be wished for, was appreciated by all.

Everyone voted the dinner a huge success and plans were discussed on all sides for the cruise of the good ship 1906 at Princeton next spring. Everyone was loathe to leave, but leaving didn't mean going home by any means. A policeman whose beat is at 125th Street and Riverside Drive told me the next day that at three in the morning he heard a noise in the bushes down by the river. As he came closer he heard someone whisper, "Look out, here comes Johnny Topley," and another "Never mind we'll go down to Renwicks."

L. D. Froelick.

Men at Class Dinner at Hotel Astor February 8, 1907

Cole Price Ray Williams J. J. Petrie Ray Richardson C. L. Quintard H. H. Higbie E. W. Kellogg E. P. Larned C. Ross McKee N. P. Charlock W. Hazard J. P. C. Alden B. W. Kerr R. C. Veit R. C. Veit
S. Hamilton
F. S. Ackley
H. R. Mixsell
G. M. Uptegrove
C. O. Kienbush
Ross Holbrook
A. T. Maurice
H. W. Langmann
G. T. German
A. K. Fowler
J. B. Beaty
W. C. Freeman
H. F. Bliss
G. Gilbert Brown
Geo. A. Hopkins G. Gilbert Brown Geo. A. Hopkins O. H. Macpherson Frank P. Simons Marion Eppley Gilbert M. Oaves E. P. Holden C. H. Strater Dyer Pearl, Jr. John Gehrkin C. A. Mackenzie J. Eiselc R. Dorman A. Ambrose R. Barr

H. Ambrose Seeley De Vinne Al Glass Swift Tarbell G. MacDonald R. H. Davis R. B. Galt Fred. Cross H. P. Bartram Vanderbilt Froelick F. Rollins Gibson H. Simons Mathai Luckenbach Reid Hinds I11 Archer Brown McEwen McGiffert Shipman W. Abbey John Anderson Stockton Cresse F. S. Durham H. Fish Schwab Dailey Richards Presbrey W. N. Righter Neis O. D. Munn Tooker Alfred M. McClure, Jr. Lewis Morris

The First Annual Cruise of the Good Ship 1906

The fleet cast anchor in the big Carnegie sea early on the afternoon of Friday, June 7, after a year's cruise among the Wall Streeters and other savage races. Jolly, rollicking liberty parties immediately began to roll ashore and into ye little town of Princeton in small groups. They kept coming until well on until the night and early on the morrow. But they never went back to the ship until four days later. They had fought the "Jolly Roger," they had chased the elusive dollar, but they now began to settle to and jes' laugh and holler. And the name of these white clad sailor men was 1906. Let Little Bright Eyes of the spirit world who watches from the look-out tower of the Library, speak of what happened:

"Yes, they're back again! And they can't wait a minute to dash across the campus to 194 Nassau Street into that tent and one of those white sailor suits simultaneously. They won't be happy 'till they get a uniform and comfort. Watch that elastic grin spread itself across their features, not to come off for four days, as they adjust those sailor collars and smile, "Now let's start something." Boom! Boom! Hello! What's this? Well, isn't that just like those oldest living graduates? A P-rade,-and not one hour in town! Band not yet arrived, but a bass drum pressed into service and a romping, criss-cross crowd swinging through the streets! I suppose we of the spirit world are in for a wild shake-up for four long days. Of course, there's Eisele right up in the van. Where else would you expect him, but holding one pole of the class banner and trying to carry the other to make sure of his job? There are the Westerners, in town early to get their money's worth for the long travel. Here comes Coxe from St.Paul, who is claiming that in lieu of a class baby to give it to, the cup is his for being the first man in a costume. Roger Hinds protests that he has been practising for this speed all year, jumping into his trousers and sliding down the brass pole on one alarms in the Richmond Hill fire engine house. But Jack Nash easily brushes them aside in his claim for the empty cup-strange that Jack should want an empty cup! For was he not the only man who was not out of that good sailor suit for an instant during his whole reunion stay? But we are casting into the future. Back!

"Who but one could own that genial parenthesis walk bowling along in the p-rade? D. Edwards of St. Paul, that's all, and naturally he has the smile to match it. Yo-ho, yo-ho! All hands, fore and aft, on deck to splice the main brace! Pipe that horn—pipe roll of Skipper Ill and First Mate Mixsell. They'll have the p-rade sea-sick, if it doesn't eat lemons. For they are full of glee—nothing more—now that they have finished the design for the flying eight-oared shell, 'The Skibo-Snipe,' had water built for it, have it almost ready to launch in the Vandeventer creek back of the tent, and have shipped a full complement of crew. This is the canny craft, ye must know, that is to win the first eight-oared race on Loch Carnegie in the Yale game p-rade to-morrow.

Skipper Ill was almost pugnacious in holding out for the good old German type, schooner, as designed for the racer. Even when Mate Mixsell insisted that schooners behaved very badly when half-seas over, the Skipper would have no alternative but the seidel. What's a reunion for, anyhow, beauty or usefulness, he wanted to know? He was for usefulness, everytime. So the craft had to be designed while he was asleep, in order to get a shell. But he was finally reconciled and did lusty service in building it, when he saw that his favorite, schooner, was out of the race. Therefore, when the two boatmen, having finished their navigation work, together with Carpenter Kerr had put up the big, fine tent, had laid the wood floor—both are marvels of splendor and the admiration of surrounding classes—they said it is time to rest. So they joined the p-rade.

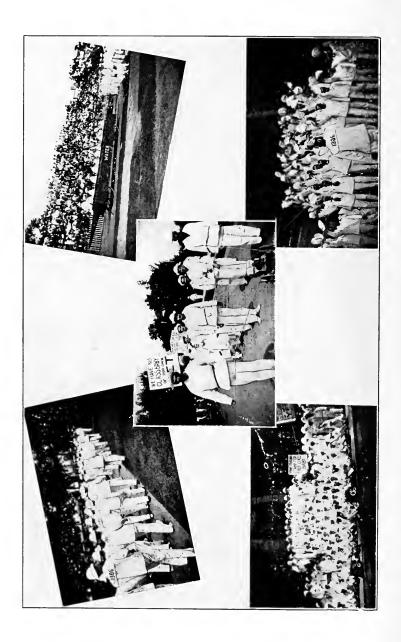

"But why this sudden, scurrying break-up of the march? They are running in all directions? They're climbing telegraph poles? They swarm into Blair tower. Here come some up into my tower! I must go."

And the nimble spirit skipped over to the belfry of Nassau Hall.

"They have telescopes! They see a train, coming in, and a figure on it. It is large as of ye old fooball warrior. He is seated—what! great Heavens!—on the roof of the locomotive cab. And he is waving his arms, up and down, like a bird. Does he think he is flying or running a milk train? As the train approaches, the figure grows bigger, bolder, it is French of features, and is no other than—you've guessed it,—Rafferty. So, is the reunion safe. Nothing worse than the Battle of Princeton, an explosion, or the burning of the village can happen now. The Great Calm is in town. And the p-rade moves on, all wreathed in Big Tim Sullivan chowder party smiles—all but Ill, in whose German blood there is no Sullivan smile.

"A varied program for the rest of the afternoon runs-arrival of bankers and brokers, more p-rades, adjournment to tent for suits, let's p-rade some more, coming of a big party—Charlock—and less p-rading for a time, more adjournments to tent, then p-rading some more. General Reid, in command, has all machinery, tent and forces, the like, oiled in clock like order by this time ready for the formal, quiet opening exercises of the evening.

"Enter Harry Ambrose at evening session with negro trio in tow to make music all the night long. He had tried their voices against a cyclone and found them valiant. Enter the mob, regiments of the uninvited. They sing (?) Lost, irrevocably—three negroes' voices, wheezed away. The piano shows signs of weariness. Kindly visitor is touched with compassion. 'Needs r'freshment.' And refreshment it gets, pitchers of it. It, too, wheezes and dies. Reinforcements of negro melodists hustled in from the highways and hedges by Leader Ambrose, who fears a quiet reunion, get a good start but nothing can last against multitudes of bawling toned gay young Sophomores and proud new Juniors, who naturally require entertainment before all others and who furnish it on half a chance.

"'A deucedly quiet evening,' Tut Walker is barely heard to call across a seething mass of bawling humanity.

"'Appallingly slow,' volunteers Jack Nash, who has been cultivating a nicety of expression out among the lumber men of Forrest City, Ark.

"There go the scouting parties in p-rade early Saturday morning, hunting for the band. Poor band, 'tis well thy tribulations are veiled in the curtain of the future! Leaders beyond compare await to devour thy brazen strains, run dry thy supple throats, and pump out thy final vestige of wind. Besides Ambrose, stern of command, Voorhees, ready in suggestion, Ill who loves a German band, there are the false leaders, Potter, the inexorable music-master, and Venable, really a guardsman with the young Prince of Asturias. Even our dignified President Reid once in a while doth take a prod into the fat sides of the music blowers. They come, come the band, they went, they pray never to come again. Through the streets of Princeton town, into the tent of great renown, over the paths of campus green, empty of wind, full of spleen, tramps the band, with a laughing, joyous mob behind, and Potter with a small cane shaken ominously in front of the note manufacturers.

"'How long, how long?' wails the Deutche leader. We haf not aller times the wind got.'

"'Popularity,' demands merciless Potter. Now 'Popularity' is the best march on tap.

"'But, der wind--'

"'You're "Popularity" itself,' from the unmoved Potter. 'Let 'er go.'
"And once more there is joy in the ranks behind, which have filled up by noon, with about 150 of the class in line. The big p-rade is moving to the Field. Potter dangles an old fish on the end of a long line and pole he has picked up in front of the noses of the band. The trusty shell, 'Skibo-Snipe,' awaits at the Field. Coxswain Voorhees, a mere featherweight in his two hundred pounds of fat, nimbly flops into the stern seat, while the mighty stroke Rafferty looks critically over his men. And then does Coxswain Voorhees speak:

"'Ye men of brawn, you are looking fit for this great trial. In academic language, be ye strong and worthy, and none of your damn fooling. We'll die for dear old Rut- 1906.'

"Whereupon crew, Bokum, Ill, Mixsell, Waller, O'Brien, Nash, Rafferty, Ambrose and Voorhees fall upon each others' necks and weep, then clamber aboard. 'Mid the cheers of the class and with Potter casting for trout from the bow of the shell. Stroke Rafferty sets out a killing pace. But such fearful strain is bound to tell. As the valiant crew sweeps across the Grand Stand line a winner by three lengths ahead of itself, the Stroke with Waller, Ill, and Coxswain Voorhees, whose extraordinary efforts at blowing orders through a horn have exhausted him, fall in dead faint.

"The booming of cannons arouse them, heralding the birth of the young Prince of Asturias, heir to the Spanish throne. The Prince's own artillery is there with him, Venable in command, Orson Munn. gunner; Eppley, gunner's mate; Perry and Macdonald, cannon carriers, and Schwob presenter of the baby to the Grand Stand. The young Prince catches sight of the transparency of the class, 'We have no Class Baby yet, But——' followed by that other, 'We are offering pink trading stamps for one.' He smiles.

"'Commendable enthusiasm,' he whispers in perfect English to his Spanish nurse-maid, Schwob.

"Then see 1906 hustle to get hold of those very choice seats allotted them out two miles sou'-west o' center-field, a niche of vantage whither in such small affairs as strike and balls, hits and errors find their way out to be bothered with, only the final general news that another Yale team has fallen and that the doughty Cooney and his men, with the Big One Heyniger and Earnest Eddie Humble Harlan have turned what seems to be a rather easy trick for them. Hits and errors, no one knows; runs, a few remember; but p-rades, everybody is on. Another championship, a bonfire Tuesday night, supreme joy, can more be said? Nothing.

"There go the immigration exclusion laws on underclassmen into effect at the evening family party in the tent. Chief Master at Arms Shave Vanderbilt is feeling his old time Freshman year rough and tumble fighting spirit. When soon he spies a brave new Junior crawling in under the tent, there is a rush as of many winds. Proud erstwhile Sophomore shoots as of the speed of rapid cannon ball from out of yawning mouth of unreceptive tent. In beauteous curves, he twirled and on Earth's floor outside he sprawled and swore, though Shave, quite soon forgetting him, was busy with some more. Harry Bliss about this time is anxious to recite "Casey at the Bat." But Pat Charlock holds that he has a lot more of his own entertainment for the crowd up his sleeve and that there will be no time for it if Harry springs 'Casey.' So Harry sorrowfully comforts himself in the thought that he had at least done one thing to entertain the class in writing that transparency for the p-rade, 'Not a man indicted, not a member of the Ananias Club, not a Nature Faker in the Class.'

"Well, the Campbells are coming led by big Jack Roe and though the ten bonny Scotsmen, brawny of legs, natty of kilt, rakish of hat, and long on wind, were brought to Princeton to entertain the Class of 1882, they like 1906 so well that they spend much time, bagpiping, singing and dancing in the tent. But of their entertainment Monday night is the special. Suffice it to say that when S. Jackson Reid, Amos Hoagland and others hear the bagpipe strains, they immediately decide to set up a claim for the head of a clan in the old country.

"Who are these three of Sir Thomas Lipton countenance at the Class Dinner in the tent on Sunday night? The cup hunters, eh? Verily, but not for the Class Cup, only the long distance travel one. Alfred Black from Bellingham, Washington; Bud Johnson from Los Angeles, California, and Kenneth Barnes from San Francisco, California, are trying to look as if they love each other. Alfred Black is awarded the cup before the close of the reunion. He had been studying the law of the question out in Washington State all the year, and who would dare dispute his claim after that? The dinner over ,our worthy President speaks for good class spirit all the time, the kind that makes an informal reunion as big a drawing card as a large one. Hinman Bird had been forced to go back to New York to open the stock market Monday morning so some one else tells of the great work he has done with the assistance chiefly of Shave Vanderbilt in collecting about $1,600 for the Memorial Fund in the first year out of college. This is taken as a record among Memorial Fund achievements in all the classes.

"Here we are again with the Kilties and they're the whole show this Monday night. Who could beat the bass drum with more artistic science than you big Scot, twirling the stick in myriad whirls behind his back before he bangs the drum? And when it comes to a Highland fling with a piping accompaniment there's not a bonny Scot in the land that can beat these men. Then there is "Loch Lomond" sung by David Chrisholm and the chorus from ten mighty throats. Meanwhile tales of the Boer War are delighting so much, that Deacon Quintard thinks seriously of adopting one of the men as his body-guard.

"Mills '04 and a crowd of his are trying to engineer a desertion by endeavoring to make the Scotsmen believe that the 1904 tent is much more congenial than the 1906. With great shouting they march off with two of the Kilties who are too polite to refuse and a handful of others. Boss Reid wants to stop their going by force. He would meet J. R. De Witt in mortal combat, if necessary, he declares. But it isn't necessary. Mills' party causes no difference whatever. The joy goes on undiminished until Boss Reid has had the lights turned out for the last time and has ordered the tent down in the morning.

"About sixty of the jolly tars are present at the alumni luncheon on Tuesday, and circle the baseball fire that evening. The Old Guard are still on hand Wednesday to see that the diplomas are handed out aright and to watch the trimming of Pennsylvania. Then do the sailors re-embark for another cruise, carrying provisions and coal enough for fast steaming and good going among unknown lands from one reunion, well managed and successful, to the next for some a year and others two years away.

L. D. FROELICK.

MEN AT THE REUNION

Some of those at the reunion were:

Abbey, Alden, Ackley, Alexander, C. A. Ambrose, H. W. Ambrose, Armstrong, Atherton, Baiter, Barnes, Barr, Bartram, Beaty, Bird, Black, Bliss, Bokum, Bradford, Burton, Brooke, A. Brown, B. Brown, G. G. Brown, H. Brown, Butler, Calverley, Carothers, Caskey, Chamberlain, Charlock, Churchman, Cresse, Cross, Cutler, Coxe, Coyle, A. Craig, Dages, Danby, R. F. Davis, De Vinne, Doane, Dorman, Drake, F. S. Durham, J. C. Durham, Dykeman, D. Edwards, Eisele, Eppley, Fish, Fleming, Fowler, Franklin, W. C. Freeman, Froelick, Gardiner, Gerhard, German, Gibson, Glass, Goldsborough, Goodeno, Graham, A. Gray, Greenland, S. Hamilton, Hasbrouck, Haskell, Hardy, M. Hayes, Hazard, Hay, Hegeman, Higbie, Hinds, Hoagland, Holden, Hopkins, Ill, S. Johnson, E. W. Kellogg, Kerr, Kienbusch, Larned, Lloyd, Luckenbach, MacCoy, Messler, Macdonald, Matthai, Maurice, McCarthy, McCreary, McEwen, McKellar, McGiffert, McLeod, A. McMillan, F. C. McMillan, Mixsell, Moore, O. D. Munn, Nash, O'Brien, Ormond, Otis, Palmer, Parker, Pearl, Preston, Perry, Petrie, Pierce, Price, Potter, Quintard, Rafferty, Reed, Reppert, Reid, Richard, Rollins, Schaff, Scott, Schwob, Shipman, Simmons, Simons, Simpson, H. D. Smith, Stanley, Stockton, Thompson, Tooker, Trace, Updegraff, Uptegrove, Vanderbilt, Vauclain, Vaughan, Veit, Vetterlein, Venable, Voorhees, Waggaman, Waller, Walker, Westcott, R. S. Williams, Wisner, Worth.

Financial

1906, in	Louis D. Froelick, Secretary, in account with the Class of matter of Secretary's Fund: Dr.
$471.99	From Class Day Committee
.50	Return of Over-Payment, Alumni Catalogue Interest, July 1, 1906, to July 1, 1907, on Secretary's Fund
12.39	Deposit, First National Bank, Princeton
$484.88
• 0	Cr.
$78.45	Printing and Postage
20.33	Stationery and Filing System
2.00	Graduate Catalogue
13.00	Flowers
$113.78
$484.88	Receipts
$113.78	Disbursements
$371.10	Balance, October 3, 1907
	COMMENCEMENT ACCOUNT.
	LOUIS D. FROELICK in account with the Class of 1906.
	Dr.
$49.00	Credit on note for $50 at 6 per cent for four months, with the First National Bank, Princeton
3,935.05	Assessments, 258 at $15.25, O. De G. Vanderbilt, Jr
221.00	Cannon Seat Receipts, J. R. Munn
101.05	Class Buttons, D. Edwards
-	Class Duttolls, D. Dawardo
36.20	Invitations, extra, T. H. Atherton, Jr

Сг
•	Typewriting, Printing ,Postage, Incidentals	$133.96
	Invitations and Programs	560.00
	Seventh Regiment Band, Commencement	710.00
	Senior P-rade and St. Patrick's Day Bands	59.50
	Nassau Herald Appropriation	450.00
	Payment of Note, First National Bank	50.00
	Class Buttons	259.25
	C. V. Gulick, Freshman Team Deficit	62.68
	Carpentering, Wiring, Policing	240.50
	Tobacco, Parasols, Ivy and Cannon Exercises Expenses	189.59
	Watch Fobs, Class Day Committee	400.00
	Class Dinner, Rental Casino	379.83
	Cannon Seats, One-Fifth of Principal and Interest on Loan
	for Erection	575.00
	_
	Total	$4,070.31
	Receipts	$4,542.30
	Disbursements
	Balance to L. D. Froelick, Secretary	$471.99

Gleanings from the Letter File

Bellingham, Wash.

Dear Lou:

The cup arrived safely and has been much admired. I was going to put it in my room, but the family yelled "tight wad" and put it down where everyone could enjoy it. Needless to say, when I drink to the health of all the members of the class in turn with it, I have to do it on the installment plan and have a stiff job at that. The only thing I don't quite like about it is a feeling that as I didn't have to exert myself as hard to get to reunion as some who traveled a shorter distance, I don't deserve the honor. All that was required of me was to say yes when asked if I cared to make the trip. I wish some system could be devised to give a cup to the man who expended the greatest effort to get to reunions.

Some old grads had quite a little fun with me before I left for the West, by congratulating me on winning the class cup. As they made the mistake of thinking I got it for the class boy, and as there was a bunch of girls present, it didn't take them long to put me up in the air. I reckon I'm out of the running for that cup though, as I haven't to my knowledge even hove in sight of my soul's affinity as yet. While I'm in the grateful mood I suppose I ought to tell of a great reform the class partially brought about in me, of which the following is typical. On the night of my arrival home from the East I showed up at the dinner table in a dress suit, my hair parted in the middle and slicked down and with a monocle in my right lamp. The fact of my living in the wild and wooly West and a brief reference to the "Hall of Fame" in the '06 Nassau Herald will explain the strangeness of the scene. Guess I 'll stop my prattle now and not burden you further, except to ask you to please thank most heartily for me all my old class mates you see for the momento they presented me with. I hereby announce that I'm a candidate for any similar glory that may exist in 1911 if not sooner.

Like yourself a venerable Old Grad, I am,

ALFRED L. BLACK, JR.

P. S. Don't think that because you asked me to write this for the year book, that I'll get mad if you don't put it in. Cut out any portions you may see fit, polish up the language or chuck it in the waste basket, but for the Lord's sake don't put it in a gold frame.

Dear Shave:

As I once had the pleasure of looking into the horoscope of the Class of 1906, you have suggested—I won't say kindly—that I write a few words for the Annual Record on whether the class has been turning out according to specifications. But to discuss all the glorious achievements of our class since graduation would, I'm afraid, require many volumes in itself. Perish the thought that I should undertake the task. I am, however, in a particularly good position to study the careers of one portion of our class—our legal representatives—and, since so many of our number have chosen that profession, a brief insight into what they are doing may prove interesting.

The first name which suggests itself is naturally that of our President, Samuel Jackson Reid. Sam went into an office last spring and, as I had heard constant reports during the summer that his name was already a slogan in the legal world, I dropped one day into his palatial office in Wall Street, expecting to find a line of clients stretching out into the street. But such was not the case. I was met on the threshold by a prosperous-looking clerk who inquired my business. I said: "I want to see Mr. Reid." His face was a blank. I raised my voice, I said: "I want to see Mr. Samuel Reid." His expression became vacuous. I fairly shouted. I said: "I want to see Mr. Samuel Jackson Reid of Brooklyn, L. I. This is where he works . Haven't you ever heard of him?" "Oh," said he. "You mean that little fellow who talks so much. You'll find him in the next room." How are the mighty fallen! I did find him in the next room. He was copying a city ordinance. He told me he thought the Law was a great profession because it required so much intelligence.

Now Vip Voorhees knows better how to do it. I had occasion this summer to run down to dear old New Brunswick for a brief visit and after finishing what I had to do, I decided to look Vip up. Here, too, I was met at the threshold by a pompous-looking clerk. But when I mentioned Vip's name he became all deference. Do you wish a divorce?" he whispered confidentially. I shook my head. "I merely asked," he explained, "Because Mr. Voorhees is so busy that he lets the younger men look after the small details." He then showed me to a seat and told me he would let me know when Mr. Voorhees was at leisure. Later I was ushered into the Sanctum and found Vip reading what he told me was the New Jersey Law Journal. Later I discovered it to be the Police Gazette.

With the career of Al Maurice, too, another of our eminent Barristers at Law, I am well acquainted, since we happen to attend the same institution of learning. Al is already a man of mark. He acquired fame there recently by his clever and original argument that the Board of Public Utilities should control the price of drinks. He says all the saloon keepers give rebates to Pete Tooker. Al believes that his best asset in the profession is his Princeton track work which will come in handily when chasing the elusive ambulance.

Then there is Rope Hinds, another aspirant of the woolsack. If there ever was a man fitted by nature to be a lawyer, it's Roger Hinds. He can argue on either side of any question whether he knows anything about it or not. Like the man who had neither hands or feet and yet was a past master in the violin-playing entirely by ear—Roger knows the law intuitively and requires no law books.

As to Bub Stockton and Judge Shipman, they already have made rapid strides toward success. Bub, it is rumored, has been retained at a yearly salary to keep Harry Bliss out of trouble and, if he does it, he will earn his money. The Judge meanwhile has cinched his appointment to the bench by becoming a Democrat and voting the Tammany ticket.

Of our Harvard delegation, Pop Seeley, Mac Pyle, But Brandon, Don Macpherson, Helm Strater, By Pierce, A. W. Bannwart, etc., I scarcely like to speak. What an array of names and yet what sad, what lamentable rumors reach us from the vicinity of fair Harvard. I hesitate to pen the words  [that the rest of this paragraph was not fit to print may be gathered from the following sentence which we quote "In an examination on the code of Social Procedure held last June at eight o'clock in the evening, But Brandon received a fifth group because he failed to attend in evening dress."]

I must not take up any more space, however, in cataloguing the legal achievements of 1906. And yet what few names have been mentioned. I might tell how Ned Stanley has broken loose since he left college; how Bunt Venable was seen working fifteen consecutive minutes one day last September; how Hank Walker is running Indiana, etc., etc., etc. But I will spare you. Hoping you will publish these few words, but urging you not to. I remain,

Very sincerely yours,
SINCLAIR HAMILTON.

New York, Nov. 25, 1907.

Dear Shave:

When I promised you I would write a dissertation on "Social Life at New York Law School" if I couldn't get anyone else to do it, I had no idea that the other members of the class who are there would be so bashful about rushing into print. I first approached Ollie Perry with your request. I regarded him as an eminent authority on the social life at the school, for a year ago when the political pot was boiling over class elections, Ollie, with his usual sagacity and foresight, espoused the cause of the winning side, with the result that when the newly elected president distributed the spoils of office, Ollie was appointed chairman of the banquet committee. Everyone believes that the banquet would have been a great success, had it not been for the fire which partly wrecked Shanley's the night before the banquet was to have been held. Since when the committee has met every two weeks to pass resolutions postponing the banquet indefinitely. However, intimate as is Ollie's knowledge of things social at the law school, he refused to write a letter. You may remember that it was a letter of his in our Nassau Herald which gave that book such a circulation that it became one of the six best sellers among the Princeton publications, and was read with almost as much enthusiasm as the Nassau Lit. Ever since Ollie has confined his correspondence to illustrated postal cards; and whenever a member of his family inquires about the Nassau Herald and expresses a wish to see one, Ollie deftly changes the subject. Yet he reminded me that he was not unwilling to entertain the class should occasion offer; remarked that he would make a speech or sing a song,—but no more letters. When he referred to his willingness to make a speech or sing a song I recalled that he had delighted a large audience at the Yale Club one evening with a thrilling description of the soccer game in which he kicked the first goal ever scored by a Princeton soccer team; and later sang our class ode from the steps of the club. It was snowing at the time, so when Ollie melodiously proclaimed that "the breath of Spring is o'er the land," a member of the Harvard Club, across the street, paled at what he termed a "hideous anachronism." So I waylaid Sam Reid, and put the proposition to him. Sam was asked to coach the baseball team at the Law School, so is in touch with the athletic life there, as well as the social. But in his terse fashion Sam remarked that it seemed rather foolish for him to write you a letter in view of the fact that he spent a large portion of his time in your office, ostensibly dictating to your stenographer. Ned Venable would have been just the one to write this, but the lure of gold and the excitement of a business career enticed him from our ranks at the end of last year. And I owe Judge Shipman some money, so didn't dare ask him. Now you have my apology for attempting this myself.

I might say that a man who takes his orders from a fourteen-yearold office boy,—and a law office boy at that,—hasn't the proper perspective in matters social; so I must dodge answering your questions regarding "Social Life in New York Law School." I suppose there is such a thing,—or Bob Stockton wouldn't be there. Anyhow, you'll hear about "Social Life" from the fellows at Harvard and Columbia Law Schools. Al Maurice is at the latter, and quite often tells us about the last tea he attended at Earl Hall, which I understand is Murray Dodge at Columbia. It seems strange that a man with Al's lurid past would have the temerity to do such a thing, but he says he has bribed Hop Pierson to keep mum, and feels reasonably safe in consequence. So I guess that you'll have enough letters about social life without an attempt from me.

With best regards to Miss Perrier,

Sincerely yours,
KENNETH M. McEWEN.

New Brunswick, N. J., November 28, 1907.

Dear Shave:

You are to be congratulated upon the excellent manner in which you are conducting our Class News column, in the Alumni Weekly. I follow our personals, so to speak, very closely each week and it is a constant source of gratification to see the great quantity that we have in. This means a great deal to those of us who are separated by many miles, and who are unable to come in contact with many of the class. Keep up the good work.

Did you attend the Fall Regatta at Princeton? Lake Carnegie must have presented a wonderfully beautiful scene. The race called to my mind our own class crew—of which I was coxswain, I speak in all modesty—Rafferty was our stroke, Al. O'Brien No. 1, Tub Waller No. 2, and many others. Do you remember Old Raff and how gallantly he stroked us to a finish? How he never became discouraged, and how, when his oar snapped in twain, his spirits never failed. Had Mr. Carnegie beheld such a picture, he would feel thrice rewarded that he has given Princeton a beautiful lake, upon which we may be able to turn out crews, well drilled in the knowledge of aquatics. Our crew was crude in the extreme and only a living example of spirit.

I am glad to see that many of us have taken up the yoke of matrimony—Hinman says "not for me"—he will get caught yet; I know several girls with nets out for him. While on this interesting subject I wish to ask you, Mr. Secretary, whether we have a Class Boy? If we haven't, it seems a shame; we must get busy so that Pitcher Heyniger may receive the baseball from an offspring of oue of our classmates.

How about our class mid-winter dinner? Kindly inform me the date, if fixed. I think it is an excellent idea to have it in Tiger-town. There is no reason why it should not be a good one—that is, if we can get a good many back to it. It is an opportune time at which to see each other and there is no place where we feel more at home than at Princeton.

My history since graduation has been without interest. I am single (this contrary to the expectations of a few) and studying law. I am a resident in good standing, strange as it may seem, of the City of New Brunswick.

With best wishes to you in your duties of Secretary and in the hopes that "the people" may take to Perrier as a duck to water, I remain,

Your sincere friend.

VIP.

The Chairman of the Class Memorial Fund publishes the following letter but begs to state that like the "Princetonian" he is not responsible for the sentiments expressed (though he added two notes). The letter was not marked "Personal" so he takes the liberty of reproducing it here.

Cambridge, May 15, 1907.

Dear Hinman:

You have added somewhat to the unhappiness of a life already destitute of much joy, by your almost relentless pursuit of me during the past winter months.

As I have been eking out my little pleasures (note—tell us in another letter Don. what these are!); occasional at best: Now listening to the glowing words of some returned pilgrim from Princeton; now with fever eye skimming a too short missive from some devoted classmate; one sad discordant note has burdened the whole refrain: hearing which to wit: "Bird told me to tell you that you owe him ten dollars for the Memorial Fund and for God's sake to pay it!"

"A melancholy tear affects my eye, And my heart has labored with a sigh."

Enclosed please find it. I should prefer to have it devoted to placing deodorizers in the "cabinets d'aisances" (Note—Don is very Frenchy) of our new entry.

We are working hard at the Harvard Law School and have just had what we hope is our last fall of snow; but this is an odd place and you can never tell when you may get a frost.

Come up to the Princeton-Harvard ball game

"And in thy right hand lead with thee Sweet Perrier! (Vanderbilt's water).

The muse is good to me to-night, Hinman.

As ever,

DON MACPHERSON.

My dear Classmates:

A year and a half is not a period of sufficient length to contain great experience for a starter in the great Game. And my letter for our first Class Book will consequently not contain an extensive or, I am afraid, a very interesting story. But it will be a story of contrast—of how I left a work of great fascination to take up a vocation which, while diametrically opposite, holds for me still greater interest.

Shortly after our graduation I started in Wall Street, soon learning the taste of the dirty work in a big bond-house; where a college graduate is no more respected for his "learning" than the ordinary messenger boy, with his mind full of "Diamond Dick." But gradually the business presented itself to me with all its great interest, and I began to get an insight into what it all meant and to realize what a "cinch" it was—for the man on top. After three months of the "runner" job I had the satisfaction—which we experienced in Sophomore year—of being able to look on those below us as well as those above. It was a great life—full of new experiences, discouragements, and hopes—and I put in nine of the happiest, as well as the busiest months that I shall pernaps ever know, studying human nature as well as finance.

In March, however, I saw my way clear to fufill a hope which I had had long before I entered college, but which I had abandoned in Junior year. It was hard to leave Wall Street, where my interest was centered and where the work appealed to me so very strongly, but I am sure there was but one thing which could have turned me from it; and that was the ministry, in the preparation for which I am now engaged. I put in the six months from March to the end of August on the books, tutoring and making up the work of the first year in the Seminary, which I had missed. In September I entered the Episcopal Theological School in Cambridge—and here I am now, burning the midnight oil as it was never burned in 8 E. M. Witherspoon, except as a beacon to guide "Shave" Vanderbilt to his bed.

I expect to be here two years, and, while it is a far cry from Cambrige to Princeton—in more ways than one—there is great satisfaction in having so many members of the class, and other Princetonians, near-by. We get together occasionally for reunions on a small scale, and so are able to carry forward the friendships of those four years, the events of which always furnish the topic of conversation for our meetings. Our addresses, found in the Class Book, are for the use of all members of the class who get within hailing distance of Cambridge, or who have the time and inclination to drop us a line about themselves.

Your friend and classmate,

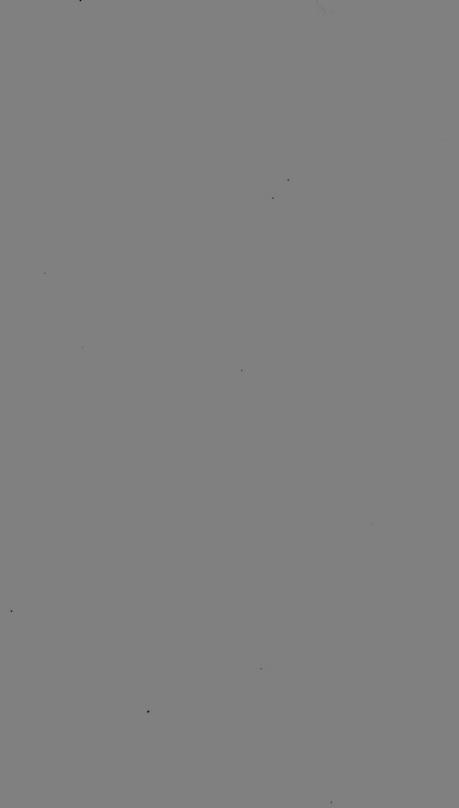

E. ASHLEY GERHARD.

0 028 321 491 6